Hundreds enjoy Truckee parade

Hailing the 100 + 1 anniversary of the completion of the transcontinental railroad that linked old Truckee to the outside world, local townsfolk were joined by enthusiastic crowds from throughout the state last Saturday.

Even Theodore Judah, the man who first dreamed that the railroad was possible, would have been proud and pleased with last Saturday's anniversary celebration.

Whether they joined in the long parade through town, stood on the sidelines, or visited local shops and stores - everyone was dressed for the occasion.

The men, not to be outdone by the fairer sex, showed up in every conceivable get-up. They sported beards, fancy, beaded, western fashions and ragged logger wear.

And then there were the women, who probably would have been the envy of almost all woman-folk who settled in Truckee so long ago. Smartly dressed in rich satin gowns with matching bustles and hats with wild feather plumes, the women recalled the excitement of yesterday when fine clothes were companions of the hardships women endured with their husbands and children as they developed the old west.

And just like the old days, town leaders were on hand to judge the smartest dressed and the best decorated floats.

Before parade time, Tina Wilkerson, dressed in a beautiful green satin gown with matching bustle and hat with feathered plume, captured first place honors for the best old fashion dress contest.

First place honors for the best commercial entry went to the Thornton Garage for a pony surrey.

The Truckee-Donner Recreation and Park District, with gaily decorated floats pulled by a school bus, took first place awards for the best non-commercial entry.

From Floriston, a group of 4-H youngsters took home first place honors for the best novelty float. Assisting the 4-H group with this year's entry was Phyllis MacMurray, who was dressed in an old fashion gown.

According to Art Kennerson and Russ Dickensheet, co-chairmen of the anniversary celebration committee, Floriston captured first place awards last year.

Festivities started in real style at 1 p.m., when the parade began its long march from Gateway through downtown Truckee. Kennerson said more than 50 separate entries took part in the parade.

Before parade time a ballet group from the Roberta Leon School of Dance in Kings Beach presented a special program for sidewalk spectators downtown. Catching laughs and yells from almost everyone was Bob Del-Carlo, a real raggedyann clown, who weaved in and out amongst parade entries and spectators.

At 2 p.m., the big 25-car passenger train rolled into town carrying some 900 visiting trainmen, all anxious to join in festivities, see the historic sights and do their part to influence townfolk to stage a twice-a-year anniversary celebration. Kennerson said "the visitors begged us to think about holding this type of celebration twice a year, but it wouldn't be practical."

He said besides guests who arrived by train, numbers of other interested people pulled into town by car. "They stayed, too, throughout the day - long celebrations," Kennerson said.

That evening more than 300 local residents and guests of Truckee continued the anniversary celebration at a dance in the Veterans Memorial Building.

Kennerson, who extended special praise to George Morey for his services as parade grand marshal, and "to all local merchants for their contributions," said Saturday's event was so successful, "We'll do the same thing next year."

Both Kennerson and Dickensheet agreed that now the anniversary train celebration will be an annual affair. "However," Kennerson said, "next year we will try to schedule it for July when we can draw more vacationers and enjoy warmer weather."

Trimont enters sewer hassle

Following close-on-the-heels of the announcement that the Trimont Land Company in North Lake Tahoe has plans to seek and form its own sewage and utility services, cries of protest were sounded last week against the proposal.

Richard Engelhard, project manager of the 25,000-acre land development company, said he has already talked with county officials and members of the Placer County Local Agency Formation Commission regarding the proposed service district. Engelhard said the proposal has been slated for the June agenda of the formation commission meeting in Auburn.

North Tahoe Public Utility District Manager Thomas Lewellyn said North Tahoe will protest Trimont's service district plan on the basis of the creation of a new district when one already exists at North Tahoe. The North Tahoe and Tahoe City Public Utility Districts actually have been competing with each other for annexation of Trimont property.

Engelhard said the formation of his company's own service district will allow Trimont time for further developments in the five-district study into regional sewage disposal and regional administration before any annexation decisions would need to be made.

The delay created by the proposed service district also would allow other time to decide which direction any expansion of sewer service should be taken, he said.

North Tahoe announced earlier its intention to protest annexation by Tahoe City any land - "more property" - under the influence of the North Tahoe District.

Directors of the Truckee Sanitary District last week took under study a proposal from North Tahoe for an interim use of Truckee sewer facilities. The study will include possible expansion of sewer service of Trimont lands and construction of new lines straight across the basin divide into Martis Valley.

Meanwhile the Trimont timetable calls for the firm's generating its first sewage in two or three years.

Set Dad's Day golf tourney

The big first annual Father's Day golf tournament is scheduled for the Ponderosa Golf Course in Truckee on Sunday, June 21, according to Reuben Maki, local fire marshal who is coordinating the festivities for the sponsoring Truckee-Donner Chamber of Commerce and Ponderosa Golf Course.

Reservations are limited to 36 two-man teams made up of fathers, sons, grandfathers, grandsons, fathers-in-law, sons-in-law, or according to Maki "adopted" fathers or sons. Entry fee is $12 per team, which includes green fees for both team members, tee prizes, lunch, beverage, and trophy awards.

The play will be scotch two-somes, selective drives. There will be low net, first, second, third, team awards, and calaway awards. Ten engraved trophies will be presented to winners in various categories.

There will be a shotgun start at 9:30 a.m. Electric carts are limited and participants wishing to reserve one are advised to call the Ponderosa.

The tournament committee consists of Maki, Ed Frates, Elden Tonini, and maestro Alex Stewart of the Ponderosa Golf Course. The food committee is under the direction of Jack Marquette.

Another golf tournament scheduled for the Ponderosa is the annual Truckee Lions Club one-club match set for Wednesday, June 3.

Regular scotch foursome play of the Ponderosa Social Club commences June 7 and will continue on alternate Sundays thereafter.

Schedule highway work

The Alpine Meadows Road intersection on Highway 89 three and a half miles north of Tahoe City will be widened and a left-turn lane installed following a May 6 opening of bids on the project.

Golden Center Construction,

Inc., of Grass Valley is low among five bidders and submitted a proposal of $11,965, according to highway officials at the Marysville district office. The project will take about three weeks and work could get underway in about a month.

Placer County could call North Tahoe building halt

ZEPHYR COVE - Placer County might have to impose a building moratorium on North Lake Tahoe, possibly within two years, if the area's new sewage treatment facility cannot handle anticipated loads.

That bombshell was dropped on the Tahoe Regional Planning Agency's Advisory Planning Commission meeting here Wednesday in a report prepared by Fred McLaren of the Lahontan Regional Water Quality Control Board and the Placer County Health Department.

According to the report, the new facility at the cinder cone off Highway 89 north of Tahoe City will reach its capacity of 1.9 to 2.5 million gallons per day (mgd) by summer 1974 if no new developments are approved after February, 1970, two months ago.

The facility was designed for use on an interim basis by Tahoe City and North Tahoe public utility districts until the district's ultimate plan of constructing a line along the Truckee River channel out of the Basin is realized.

"With the existing trench system, the capacity is 1.9 million gallons per day, and with additional trenches it could increase to 2.5 million gallons per day," the report added. "The problem is obvious," McLaren said, "Placer County cannot go over the capacity of the cinder cone."

Based on a 3 per cent build-out of existing approved developments and the sewerage of approximately 4,000 homes now on septic tanks, the report envisions the 1.9 mgd capacity will be reached by 1972. That would necessitate additional trenches for the 2.5 mgd capacity.

Figures released in McLaren's report indicated the following anticipated flow, all of which he said were "conservative." North Tahoe PUD: 0.6 mgd for August 1970; 0.8 mgd winter 1970-1; 1.18 mgd summer 1972; 1.21 mgd winter 1972-3.

Tahoe City PUD: 0.26 mgd for August 1970; 0.27 mgd for winter 1970-1; 1.55 mgd summer 1972; and 1.40 mgd winter 1972-3.

The total flows to the cinder cone were estimated as 2.71 mgd in August, 1972, and 2.60 mgd for winter 1972-3.

"That report is based on assumptions, not facts," said Tom Llewellyn, manager of North Tahoe district. He suggested any APC action await data to be obtained from peak flows this summer to "see how much the cinder cone will hold."

Llewellyn, McLaren and William B. Layton, manager of the Tahoe City district, will get together with Placer County officials to discuss the report which was continued to the APC's June meeting.

"The threat of a moratorium does exist," reported Dick Heilka, Placer County planning director. "The districts better get hopping to meet the 1972 deadline for exporting sewage from the Tahoe Basin."

McLaren also pointed out that the Advisory Planning Commission should do everything possible to "consolidate the five sewage districts involved in the Truckee River watershed." Those include the North Tahoe and Tahoe City public utility districts.

In other action Wednesday, the Advisory Planning Commission:

- Worked on language used in proposed goals and policies for Lake Tahoe's development and preservation which will be submitted to the agency for approval probably in June. The APC also will submit a map delineating the interim proposed land uses for the Basin until the agency comes up with its master plan 15 months from now.

- Tabled action on an 82-unit condominium at Incline Village developed by Sierra Tahoe United Developers, pending results of a suit filed in Washoe County.

- Reapproved a pier at Tahoe City, adjacent to the Commons. The pier will be divided in half for both public and private use, with appropriate easements to allow the public to cross private land for the pier's use.

- Approve the Forest Service Sewer System, Stage 3, South Tahoe Public Utility District, for installation of 38,000 linear feet of gravity sewers at Camp Richardson, and for a collection system at Spring Creek Summer Home Tract in Fallen Leaf Campground on the west shore of Fallen Leaf Lake.

Political statements

The Sierra Sun has tried to accommodate local political candidates by publishing their statements of candidacy when we have been furnished with them and by making advertising space available to them. The last issue of the Sun before election is May 27 and we will at that time publish final statements from political candidates in Nevada and Placer Counties. Material should be at the Sierra Sun office in Truckee (Box 248) not later than Friday, May 22. Advertising deadline for that issue is noon, Monday, May 25.

National recognition for county function

Nevada County Supervisors received word Monday that County Auditor John T. Trauner's accounting and data processing system will receive national recognition.

Lauding Trauner's spirit of cooperation between his auditor-controller office and other county departments, the National Cash Register Company requested permission to submit the county auditor's system for national publication.

The company, with home offices in Dayton, Ohio, praised Trauner's system for its scope, design and implementation. "All major applications were designed, programmed, and operating within 12 months of delivery of equipment," the company noted.

National Cash Register officials said, "We are not aware of any other county implementing these applications within this time frame. Many counties with more expensive systems and therefore greater hardware capabilities, and larger staff, have fewer applications operating after a five year period."

Praising Trauner's spirit in working with the total Nevada County government, the company said his services have extended utilization of the system and that almost 75 per cent of the total work load has been dedicated to processing for other departments.

Company officials noted that their feelings of praise for Trauner and his staff's expert work has been shared "by other counties who have visited Nevada County and voiced their appreciation of the auditor's desire to assist them."

Max the lion hearted

Tomorrow is the big day for the 10th annual "Sierra Spree" benefit sponsored by members of the Tahoe Forest Hospital Auxiliary.

Theme for the fund-raising gala will be spring flowers and the annual event, featuring a dinner-dance at 7:30 p.m., will assist the hospital in purchasing of a $7,000 fully-instrumented resuscitation and emergency life supporting system on wheels.

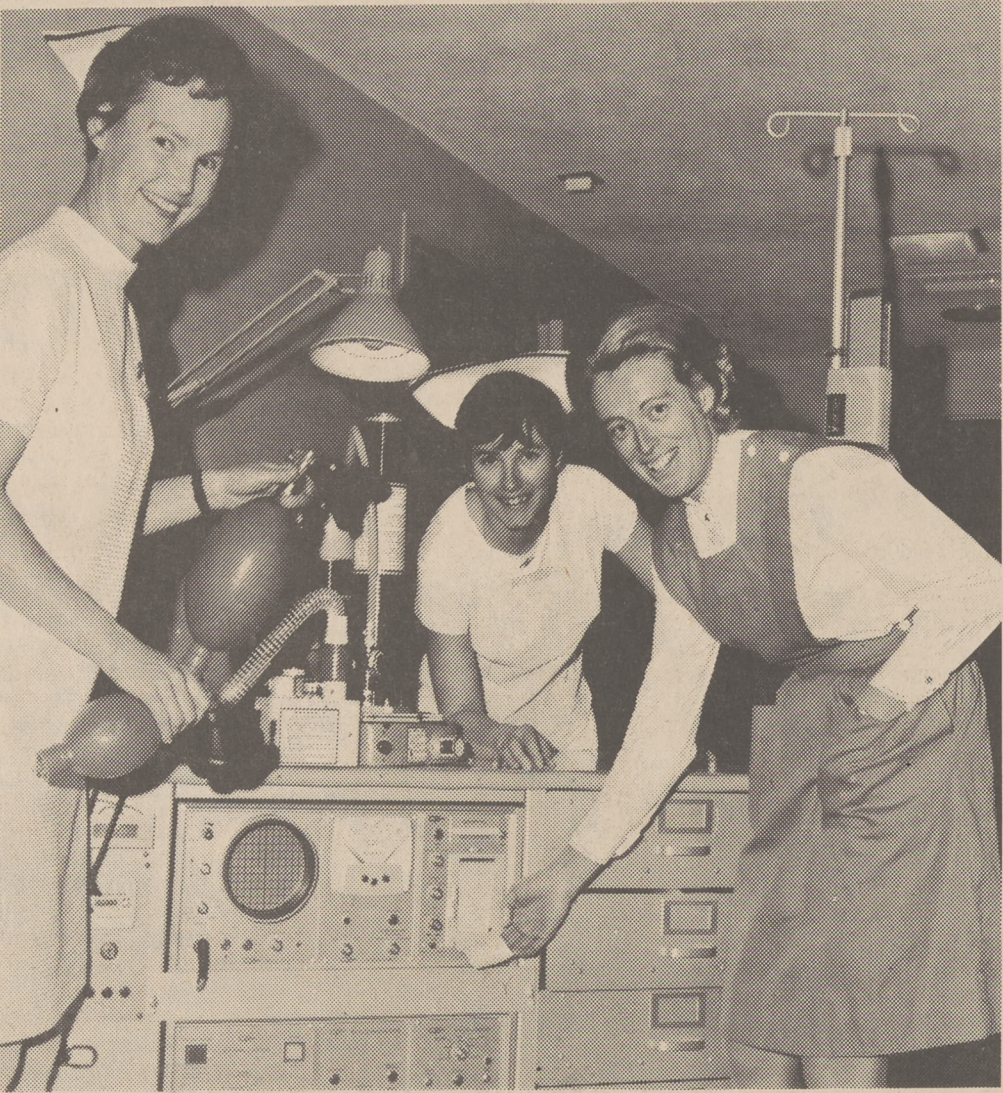

Known by hospital doctors and nurses at Tahoe Forest Hospital as "Max", the big mobile unit, already in use at the hospital, has proven its worth in restoring life to patients whose hearts have stopped beating.

Mrs. Gabi Schwarz said although "Max" is expensive, Tahoe Forest Hospital will continue to save more lives and faster with "Max" than without him." Mrs. Schwarz, who is serving as publicity chairman for the benefit tomorrow, said the mobile unit houses all its own medical instruments and supplies necessary to administer immediate treatment of cardiac arrest. She said contributions for the large cardiopulmonary resuscitation system are tax deductible and should be mailed to the Tahoe Forest Auxiliary, Box 1137, Truckee. Tickets for the annual affair will be available at the door and are still available from auxiliary members, Mrs. Schwarz said.

MAX THE BIG-HEARTED MACHINE - Demonstrating the speed and efficiency the new "Max" mobile unit is capable of in saving lives, are, from left, Tahoe Forest Hospital Auxiliary members and nurses, Adele de Ryk, Lois Hickey and Gabi Schwarz. Auxiliary members will host their 10th annual fund-raising dinner-dance tomorrow at 7:30 p.m., to raise funds to purchase the costly $7,000 machine. The evening social will be held at the North Shore Club. Tickets are available from auxiliary members and will be available at the door.

EDITOR SIERRA SUN:
Through the medium of the "Sun" we want to thank the men and women of the Truckee-Donner Historical Society who contributed their bit to making the May 9th festivity a success. Interpreters of history who manned their posts commendably are Laura Horman, Mary Murnie, Dwayne Haddock, Irene Edwards, Dorothy Fordham, Red Burlingham, Connie Hamner, Barbara Grow and Norman and Mrs. Simpson. Marie Henry had a prior commitment with the Civil Air Patrol, otherwise, she would have been present. Janet Franklin had earned her credentials for manning a post but had to report for work at the hospital.

Jessamine Walk, our own roving photographer, snapped many shots in motion of a variety of activities that she, no doubt, will share with us at one of the summer meetings.

Thomas Conover, president of the Sacramento County Historical Society, said he had talked with a representative of the local chamber of commerce and it was suggested that this visiting train become an annual affair. Should it so do, I am sure that the mistakes made on the occasion of this one will be teaching tools for improvement in the years to come.

Donner ambulance asks increased county aid

A plea for a larger county subsidy so another driver can be hired was made by a second Nevada county ambulance firm Tuesday.

The request from Jerry Fitzsimmons of Donner Ambulance Service, which serves the county's eastern end, was similar to one made recently by Gene Blake of Twin Cities Ambulance, which serves the western end.

The supervisors responded by telling both Fitzsimmons and Blake to summarize their request and the rationale behind it on one-page sheets for the board. Then, the requests will be considered during county budget studies.

Both ambulance operators have contended they cannot make an adequate profit nor afford to hire a second driver on the income now generated by private payees and the county. The Donner firm receives a $4,200 subsidy annually now as reimbursement for patients who do not pay. Twin Cities receives $4,800.

Fitzsimmons asked that his subsidy be raised to $7,200 so he can hire a second man. Blake did not set a specific amount in his earlier presentation but also wants to hire a second man because his wife no longer is physically able to help on ambulance runs. Fitzsimmons said he pays himself $800 a month or $9,600 a year, and his wife does the books without pay. Earlier, Blake indicated his net from the ambulance service was about $5,000 last year.

Fitzsimmons felt the increased subsidy is necessary to provide adequate care in emergency cases. "The tragic thing that has resulted with many ambulance companies is inadequate treatment on the highways, inadequate equipment in the ambulance and inadequate personnel," Fitzsimmons said. "Paramount in my mind is the treatment people are entitled to. People do expect to be treated properly, so I feel it necessary to staff the ambulance properly."

Fitzsimmons said an ambulance should have two men so one can administer emergency treatment if necessary while the other drives. He does have some part time helpers who work on an on call basis.

Supervisor Ralph Buchanan asked if Fitzsimmons plans to increase his rates to private pay patients and was told the basic charge has been increased from $25 to $35 in the past year. Fitzsimmons said that is pretty much "in line with ambulance companies around the state. I'm trying to give the best care I possibly can and still stay in line with other ambulance companies."

Buchanan felt, however, that rates should perhaps be increased again. "Every other business has to keep raising prices to keep operating, and few have taxpayers to fall back on" he commented.

Chairman Willie Curran felt the county should do something to help the ambulances and keep them private as he feels it would be too expensive for the county to operate this service. "I'm sure the board feeling is we don't want to go into the ambulance service as much as it costs," Curran said, citing an estimated $40,000 to buy an ambulance. "We do have a moral obligation as long as we are not going into the ambulance business ourselves."

Bank building tops permits

The Bank of America's building permit to construct a bank building valued at $138,000 at Gateway in the Truckee area topped the dollar value of permits issued last month by the Nevada County building and inspection department.

The valuation of permits issued in April totaled $838,601.

Truckee tales

By BETTY KIELHOFER
Though I don't know who the thoughtful person was that mailed me the clippings, I was happy to receive them and know that Karen Hedlund, daughter of Ken and Honore Hedlund, will marry Richard W. Williams, Aug. 16. Both of the betrothed attended Sacramento City College. Haven't seen Ken and Honore for ages but would like them to know I think they have a very beautiful daughter and just couldn't believe she's all that grown up.

Also enclosed in the letter was another clipping announcing the engagement of Helen Ann Berry to Robert Dennis Bottel. Helen is the daughter of Mrs. Meriam Berry of Rancho Cordova and Robert is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bottel of Sacramento. She (the bride-elect) attended American River College and the future bridegroom graduated from Oregon State University.

While on the subject of marriages, I received a call from our good friend Steve Besio saying he would be taking the vows on Sunday, the 10th, so I'm sure he is married today. The notice was a little late for us to attend but I would have liked to very much. I also talked to his fiancée. Her name is Sharon but I neglected to get her last name. The wedding was to take place in Davis. Congratulations to both Steve and Sharon and you have my very sincere wishes for many a happy day ahead. Steve is a special friend of ours as I baby-sat he and his brother John when they were little squirts and all I'm feeling today is old-old-old!

News from Floriston

By PHYLLIS MacMURRAY
Floristonians gathered together for a pot luck dinner May 9 in honor of our recently retired Postmaster, Clara Felesina. The occasion turned into a combination retirement and going away party as Clara and husband, Lester, have moved to Sparks. The Felesinas were one of the towns oldest families and Clara served as Postmaster for 15 years.

If you have ever been to Floriston you will understand our dire need for paved roadways. A petition was signed by local landowners in order to get the project underway by forming a permanent road division. Road committee members are Ed Zucchini, Willy Raber, Leonard Suter, Al Funk, and Harry Jamason.

As you go whizzing past Floriston you would never guess that our small community, untouched by the fast moving world, holds within its walls a story yet to be told. Last Wednesday, Sierra Sun's Gene King made her way up the snake curved road taking pictures and uncovering our dust filled pages of yesteryear. Through the cooperation of local residents, Gene was able to gather historical data which we feel is quite unique and of interest to our neighbors in Truckee.

Last Saturday, a handful of Floriston kids left Truckee just busting with pride and happiness as they passed around their hard earned trophy that represented long hours of preparing their 4-H float for the centennial parade. Our 4-H members, assistant leader Wanda Smith, and myself join together in thanking those who helped to make our day a complete success and we'll see you next year.

column? The University of California says it's a variety of hemlock, of the type Socrates drank when he committed suicide. They have it labeled in the lab "Poisonous Hemlock - Do Not Eat." It is growing along the Truckee River out old Highway 40 and who knows where else? - so beware!

Rosie Kielhofer was so pleased to run into some of her old friends on Saturday during the celebration. They were Mrs. Nellie Mitchell of Oakland and Isabel Carson from Merced. Nellie is the sister of Della Burlingham of Truckee and lived here for many years. They shared a couple of snorts at the Pastime, which was doing a booming business right along with the other establishments.

At this writing (noon Saturday), the crowds are gathering, clowns are dashing up and down the street and we are awaiting the parade. The music is blaring loud and clear over at the S. P. station heralding the arrival soon of the hundreds of people who will be streaming off the special passenger train from Sacramento. (Some 'clown' just hustled in the door and stuffed a chewy candy in my mouth so if I'm garbled from this point on, forgive me).

This office is a terrific vantage point. Ho-ho - would you check out Hazel Beck! She always takes the cake for my money, with those outlandish costumes. Nobody gets in the spirit more than Hazel! She'll never win a prize for authenticity but she's always good for a thousand laughs.

Proud grandpa Otho Davis just pranced in to introduce his grandson, Lance. Momma and papa Bergman couldn't make it. Listen to that! There's a real, live rock band coming over the loudspeaker. Gotta go check that out!

THE PARADE! Here it comes! You should see some of the adorable entries. One of the cutest is Earl Stice as the old-fashioned telegrapher - the Clampers in their double-decker bus swaying to and fro and the Firette's in their can-can costumes. Anyway, aren't you sorry you missed it? We'll be doing it every year, no doubt, so why not try to make it next year. Now I'm getting the pressure to knock it off 'cause the happy hour is beginning. The office is invaded!

Hal Fandl, a math teacher at the high school, dropped by after sailing on Donner Sunday with two of his lady friends from the city for a Mother's Day dinner with us. They all ran down to the river while we were getting it ready and he caught a beautiful trout (14") in just a few minutes.

Eye clinic for moppets

A pre-school vision screenings program will be conducted by the Truckee Parent Cooperative Nursery School on May 21 in the school administration building at Truckee. Children from age 3 to 6 will be given a simple check test for the detection of Amblyopia (lazy eye), which must be discovered before a child is over six to be treated successfully. The condition may not be discovered by casual observation and may go undetected until the child has entered school and is past the age where it can be corrected. Hours of testing are 11:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. on May 21. All parents in the district are urged to bring their moppets for the free test.

State schedules public hearing on snowmobiles

A public hearing on the use of snowmobiles in California has been scheduled for June 10 at 2 p.m. in the Community Center, 380 North Lake Boulevard, Tahoe City, by William Penn Mott Jr., director of the California Department of Parks and Recreation.

The hearing resulted from a recent request by the State Park and Recreation Commission for Mott to look into the State's responsibility in the field of snowmobiles.

Mott said the hearing will be held to collect facts and opinions on the use of snowmobiles. Among its purposes he listed:

1. Defining the department's responsibility for recreational uses of snowmobiles.
 2. Determining the need to establish a coordinated program for use of snowmobiles in the state park system.
 3. Receiving comments on the need for establishing snowmobile recreation trails.
 4. Determining whether or not there is a need to license operators of snowmobiles.
- The hearing will be an attempt to collect facts and opinions on not only the track-type snowmobile but also on all off-road recreation vehicles designed to operate principally on snow.

Mott pointed out that the commission and the department have a responsibility to work with public and private groups in determining the recreation needs of California's people, and recommending how they might be met.

"Snowmobile recreation is increasing by leaps and bounds, and California does not have enough proper facilities to accommodate users at this time. We hope to be able to come up with some kind of program to provide suitable places for snowmobiling."

Mott said he hopes to obtain testimony from land-owning and managing agencies, manufacturers, sales agencies, and recreation suppliers as well as snowmobile users.

He said he expects the hearing to result in some type of regulations for the use of snowmobiles in state park units, and possibly legislative recommendations in implementing and funding a statewide snowmobile program.

Donner doings

By VI WHITE
Only about two feet to go and the lake will be up to summer level. All sorts of things are seen floating around. Boats, piers, logs and lots of drift wood have broken loose in the higher water, finding a resting place along the far shore on the east end after the strong west winds we've been having. Snow again on Sunday brought a look of winter which surely must have caused cancellation of the picnic planned at the Truckee recreation park.

Did see a couple of boats out on the lake though, fishermen and sailors. They looked mighty cold, but seemed to be enjoying themselves never the less.

Good news; the Jamiesons will be running the west end beach again this summer, with a possible opening scheduled for the May 30 weekend.

Gladys and Bob live in Reno, and own the Diamond Boat 'N Sport Shop there, but move to Donner Lake for the summer to attend to the various beach activities. Many large groups hold picnics at the site.

Their son Bob had a bad accident last fall when a Dune Buggy rolled over, paralyzing him. After several months in hospitals, he is now home using a wheel chair, but can also get around at times with crutches we are glad to report.

His sons Brad and Scott will be helping at the boat shop and at the beach during the summer months.

tion, which he will help with. It was very windy around the pool when the Fresno Ski Club hosted a champagne party, hoping to obtain the convention site in 1972. Small plastic grapes were pinned on all those who participated.

Several members wore S, O, S. pins which were sold to help Save Our Skiing and fight for the Mineral King ski area that southern California skiers need so badly.

Needless to say that the whole town of Truckee turned out to greet the 800 people and more that poured off the Centennial train Saturday.

It was a gay time in the old town.

Too bad though that the parade wasn't held up for just a little longer so that the train passengers could view it. The floats were great and those who participated really helped with the festivities of the wild west. The Clampers sure made colorful additions to the affair in their bright red shirts and black hats.

Don't forget the Tahoe area clean-up next weekend, and do our bit here too.

See you at the Sierra Spree tomorrow night.

Optimists are first

Nevada County road equipment certainly did a fine job clearing the paved roads around Donner Lake again this winter, with many property owners are wondering when or if the large rocks that have fallen off banks will be removed. Last year, many rocks were left, especially around the China Cove dead-end section, where the big turnaround is. Several breakdown sections have been noted along the edge of the roads where drainage was clogged and water was allowed to flow over the pavement during the flooding periods last winter. Hope they will be repaired soon.

The Tahoe City Optimist Club stands in first place in club ratings for the first three quarters of the current year for the Pacific Central District which is made up of 106 clubs from northern California, Nevada and Utah. This announcement and a recap of points was made at the district convention held at the Ramada Inn in Clovis last week.

Points are given for membership, attendance, monthly club reports, visitations, bulletins, boys work, scrapbook, honor merit club, public relations, community service, new clubs, district meetings and oratorical.

The last quarter of ratings will end September 30 and president Ernie Marier reports that the local club is going all out to stay on top.

Five unopposed in Placer

Primary elections in Placer County will be held a week from next Tuesday, which means that each registered voter will have a chance to help choose candidates for the November 3 general election. In Placer County offices, five incumbents are unopposed. They are, Frank R. Chilton of Roseville, assessor; Kimbuck Williams, Jr., of Auburn, auditor; Maurine I. Dobbas of Newcastle, clerk-recorder; Dan J. Higgins of Auburn, district attorney and public administrator; and Bob Mahan of Roseville, supervisor first district.

Incumbent sheriff and coroner William A. Scott will be challenged on the ballot by Eugene E. Dahlberg, service station operator and Edward A. Moyer, self-employed. All three men are residents of Auburn.

County treasurer and tax collector F. Earl Cornin (incumbent) is opposed by grape shipper Fred Garbolino. Both candidates live at Roseville.

Robert Radovich of Lincoln, incumbent supervisor of the second district will face the primaries against challengers radar technician Bob Bruce of Sheridan and rancher Alex Ferreira of Newcastle.

In the Tahoe Judicial District incumbent Robert A. Fugazi of Tahoe City will contend with write-in candidate Van B. Farris, realtor, of Homewood.

Set candidate's night

Candidates for public office in Nevada County will have an opportunity next Monday to explain themselves to voters in the eastern portion of the county at a forum sponsored by the Truckee Elementary School PTA.

This is the fifth time that the parent-teacher group has conducted a candidate's night. Letters of invitation have been sent to candidates for Truckee Justice Court judge, superior court judge, county auditor-controller, public administrator and sheriff.

Mrs. Mary Lehner, PTA president, will preside over the regular meeting and then Mrs. Pat Sutton, committee chairman, will introduce the program. Candidates will have five minutes to state their platforms and after candidates for specific offices have spoken there will be a brief question and answer period concerning that office. The program begins at 7:30 p.m. in the multipurpose room at Truckee Elementary. The public is invited and refreshments will be served following the program.

Morley to address executives

Six trips around the world in seven years is the record of John Morley, ace reporter, columnist and lecturer who will be the guest of the Reno Executives club when it holds its dinner at the Sparks Nugget Convention Center the evening of May 18.

According to Morley, it took that many trips to find out what was going on. "Things change traveled journalist and observer of world conditions. 'What is true one day, won't hold the next. The scenery is ever shifting.'"

In his current talk he tells of experiences and interviews on his latest trip last summer. Although the fact that he has recently returned from a global journey is being played up, he is far from one of the "I was there" boys. He was not only there, but he shrewdly appraised what he saw and heard as he interviewed many of the world leaders in Siam and Hongkong, Russia, India, Formosa, North China, Japan, Europe, and the Middle East Countries.

Morley was with the war Department during World War II as director of a U.S. military intelligence campaign against foreign spies. He is the author of "I Believe" and other books, and he has been a frequent contributor to the Saturday Evening Post, Reader's Digest and Ladies Home Journal.

Ann Burcell engagement

Mr. and Mrs. John Burcell, of Truckee, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Ann Heath, to Leonard Schwab, of Colfax.

Ann, who is an airman in the Air Force, was graduated from Tahoe-Truckee High School last June. She is assigned to the base administration division at Travis Air Force Base. Schwab, who was graduated last June from Colfax High School, enlisted in the Army last January and completed his basic training at Fort Ord. He presently is attending leadership school at the Monterey Army Base.

The groom-elect is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Schwab, of Colfax.

The young people have not set their wedding date.

Apprehend suspects in 'pot' raids at Verdi

Through the joint efforts of four law enforcement agencies, suspected California and Nevada narcotics users were rounded up during a bi-state raid in the Verdi area.

Officers from the Nevada County Sheriff's sub-station in Truckee, assisted by deputies from the Sierra County Sheriff's office in Downieville, joined special narcotics investigators from Washoe County Sheriff's Office in Nevada and the Reno police department in the narcotics raids over the weekend.

A total of 15 persons, including two 17-year old girls from Sparks, were taken into custody late Saturday and early Sunday morning.

In the Saturday night raid four adults besides the two juvenile girls were taken into custody and charged with being in a place where narcotics were being used and for being under the influence of marijuana, arresting officers said.

A fifth adult, Richard Gordon Hein, 20, of Verdi, who lived in the cabin where the raid took place, was charged with possession of marijuana, possession of narcotics paraphernalia, maintaining a place where marijuana is used, for being under the influence of marijuana, and for possession of dangerous drugs or narcotics, the officers said.

The narcotics arrests Saturday continued on into Sunday in two separate trailer raids, in the Riverbelle Trailer Court and the nearby Crystal Trailer Court.

Host realtor convention

North Lake Tahoe will host a national group of realtors Sunday through next Wednesday at the Cal-Neva Lodge.

According to the Greater North Lake Tahoe Chamber of Commerce, the organization's membership share their inventiveness and technical knowledge to improve real estate investment objectives for the industry.

The Cal-Neva meeting, to be hosted by Cortlandt Parker, S.E.C. realtor, with offices in Kings Beach, will be a combined regional meet of the Northwestern United States and Southwestern section of the nation. However, realtor members from throughout the states have been invited.

Chateaux du Lac --luxury townhouses

Luxury units to be readied for mid-June occupancy

Snuggled amidst groves of Tahoe evergreens and blending with the lake shoreline is a new 27-unit townhouse development located in the Al Tahoe section of South Lake Tahoe.

Scheduled for completion by mid-June, Chateaux du Lac will be one of the lake's most luxurious housing developments. The two-story townhouses will not only feature modern electric kitchens, fireplaces, balconies, and special recreational facilities, but will offer a panoramic view of the lake from all units.

Chateaux du Lac, "Homes by the Lake," has been carefully planned to preserve trees and pines will be left towering throughout the development and down to the shoreline where a meadow adjoins the property.

Constructed of wood and other natural materials to blend in look more than 25 uninterrupted miles of Lake Tahoe to the opposite shore.

Architect for the project is Robert Mason, a well-known resident of South Lake Tahoe, who has been particularly diligent in creating structures compatible with the mountain and lake environment.

Inside, the units are designed for maximum insulation with double walls for heat retention and soundproofing. Chateaux du Lac is fully equipped with range and oven, dishwasher, disposal and refrigerator.

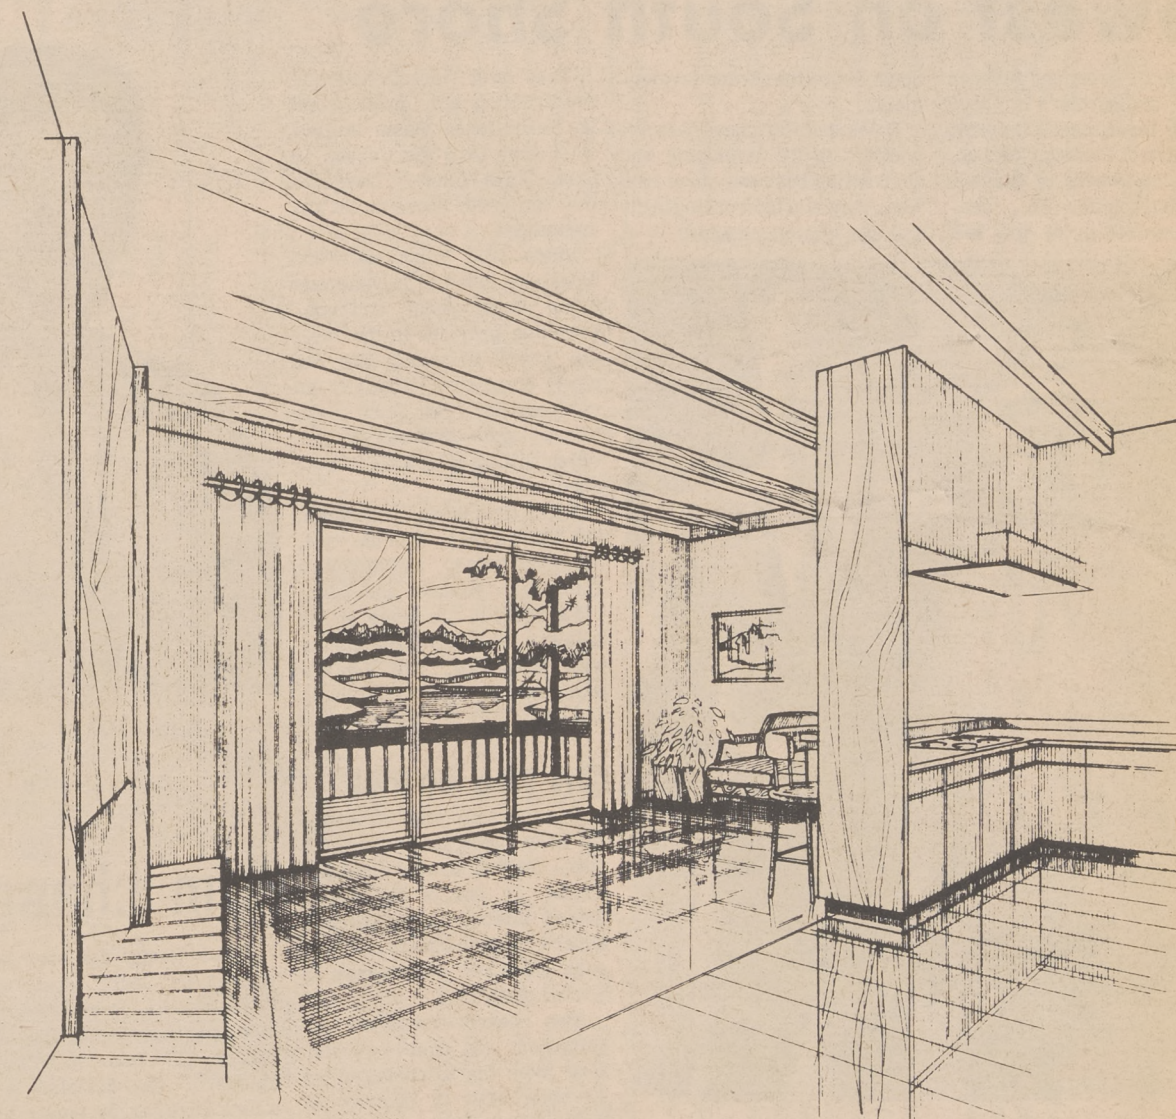

Buyers will also have access to a pier on the water front facing the townhouses and residents of the development will share a heated luxury swimming pool.

The two-bedroom units are 1,360 square feet of living area and three-bedroom units vary from 1,585 to 1,730 square feet.

Sixteen of the units are already sold, according to Bob Boles, partner with Norman Farr in construction and sale of the townhouses which range in price from $40,400 to $49,000.

Contractors are Boles and Farr Construction in general partnership with Tahoe Bonanza Investments. Units in Chateaux du Lac can be purchased through Lakeside Realty in South Lake Tahoe.

Boles & Farr project newest on South Shore

Robert D. Boles and Norman G. Farr are partners in Tahoe Bonanza Investment Company, developers of Chateaux de Lac, and are co-owners of Boles & Farr Construction Co., general contractors for the new South Shore townhouse development. Boles and Farr have been associated in the developing and contracting business since 1960 when they started working in the Merced, California area.

They first became active in construction and development in Lake Tahoe Basin in 1965 when they built the Cabana in South Lake Tahoe. They now own the South Shore motel and restaurant.

Since 1965 Boles and Farr have been involved in numerous other development and construction projects in the area, the latest of which are the newly completed Rowdway Inn of America at South Lake Tahoe and Chateaux de Lac which will be completed in mid-June.

Boles first moved to Tahoe in the fall of 1965 with his wife, Mary E. Boles, and their two children, Ronald and Lori.

Farr made his home at the lake two years ago. He and his wife, Betty Sue, are also the parents of two children, Laurie and Chris.

PARTNERS - Norman Farr and Bob Boles are pictured at the construction site of Chateaux du Lac where the Boles and Farr Construction Co. is working to complete the new townhouse development on the South Shore.

On the cover

A panoramic view of beautiful Lake Tahoe, its south shoreline, Barton Meadows and Mt. Tallac is one of the biggest assets offered to prospective buyers and residents of Chateaux du Lac townhouses in South Lake Tahoe.

The nearly-completed development will offer a similar view from the balconies of its 27 units built at lakeside in the Al Tahoe area.

The water front residential dwellings offer beach and pier facilities for residents in addition to the aesthetic beauty.

OWNERSHIP CHANGE - Bob Boles, right, has sold Boles Realty to Jerry Mossholder, left, who has worked as Boles' office manager for the past three years. The firm will now be known as Lakeside Realty and will continue in the same lines and offer the same services as previously. Boles will remain with the firm in property management.

Firm changes owners, name

Boles Realty has been purchased by Jerry Mossholder from Robert Boles and will now be listed as Lakeside Realty. The main office is located in the Stateline area where Highway 50 meets Pioneer Trail.

Mossholder has been with the Boles Realty firm for the past three years as office manager. He officially took over ownership May 1.

The business will continue handling property management and general brokerage transactions.

Boles will continue to be affiliated with Lakeside Realty as property manager for Chateaux de Lac, new South Shore lakeside condominiums for which Lakeside Realty is exclusive purchasing agent.

Mossholder has been a resident of South Lake Tahoe since he moved to the area from San Jose five years ago. He and his wife, Corann, are the parents of two daughters, Mrs. Cathy Christopherson and Rebecca Mossholder.

North Lake Tahoe Chamber Pot-Shots

On the agenda for the May 21 chamber meeting is an item labeled "Granite Chief Resolution" and it will be a foregone conclusion that the decisions have been reached by forest supervisor Branagh and regional forest supervisor Dienema and the die has been cast. However, the chamber never officially adopted a resolution after their original one of two years ago. Professor John James is scheduled to present a resolution for the chamber to formally adopt.

The goals and guidelines outlined in the revised multiple use management plan for the National Forest lands in the Lake Tahoe Basin are excellent; however, the Granite Chief area is outside the Basin but contiguous to the entire area. It is a favorite area for mountain recreation and much of the terrain is steep and rocky.

Our chamber committee feels that there is a demand for improved trails and for a possible development of a loop trail system but not for another high trans-Sierra mountain road for motorized vehicles connecting Tahoe with lower Placer County. They realize that for the esthetic values of the Granite Chief's forests, its watershed, recreation and other values, it will require some timber removal; however, the committee recommends that the timber be removed out the Forest Hill roadways and not into the Tahoe Basin.

The committee hopes to reopen more Forest Service consideration for the area by their resolution. Also on the agenda the 21st is General American's presentation of their proposed plans for their Dollar properties.

While in other areas youths were marching in protest, it was refreshing to see the fun and frivolity at the festivities of the 100 plus one railroad anniversary in Truckee. The spontaneous atmosphere of the early west, the costumes, floats, and entries in the parade reminded one of the family day Fourth of July celebrations depicted in the old Norman Rockwell album.

There must have been a million photos shot of Truckee and all the historic sites listed for the train passengers to see who had two hours to "shoot 'em up."

The gals were busy selling historical stationery while the fellows were peddling red garters with "Truckee 70" on them. You couldn't get inside a saloon's doors and the overflowing crowds were solid traffic on Truckee's historical main street. This town with its proposed face-lifting will be real gold mine. The tourist traffic will generate more dollars in the till than any railroad or lumber industry did in the past!

Firemen assist with pair of emergencies

Last Thursday the Truckee Fire Department chalked up two successful life saving rescues. At noon Fire Marshall Reuben Maki received an urgent call for help from a Greyhound Bus headed for Kings Beach. A passenger, William Henderson, had suffered a heart attack and required resuscitation assistance from the fire department.

Maki said despite his suggestion that the man be admitted to Tahoe Forest Hospital for further emergency treatment, Henderson declined and proceeded on the bus trip.

Soon afterwards Maki and his volunteer firemen received a second call for help - this time at Prosser Dam where two Sacramento fishermen were overboard in the middle of the cold lake. The fishermen, Brandon McDonald and Ed Knight, were clinging to their small aluminum boat which had capsized about 1 p.m.

Besides the volunteer firemen, units from the Nevada County Sheriff's Department and California Highway Patrol were on hand to assist in the rescue. Captain John Waller, of the volunteer fire department, braved the cold waters and swam out to the overturned boat and rescued the two men.

Maki said the fishermen were about 300 yards from shore when their boat overturned. He said both men, who suffered from exposure of the cold water he estimated to be about 40 degrees, refused emergency treatment at the local hospital.

Environmental Impact Committee news report

By Roberta Huber

Unfortunately, our observers were unable to make both the Sanitary District meeting and the PUD meeting. The agenda of the Sanitary District looked interesting, wonder what happened?

Leigh Rovzar would like to reiterate that the Five District Committee is a study group. A draft proposal for studying a regional approach to the effluent disposal problem of the Tahoe-Truckee Area has been submitted to the California Water Resources Board in the hope of gaining funds to carry on the study. According to Mr. Rovzar, no site nor method of disposal is number one. All possible sites and methods are to be studied.

According to a Sacramento Bee story, the cinder cone above Tahoe City may be inadequate for the sewage effluent proposed to be disposed of there by the Tahoe City and North Tahoe Public Utility Districts. On the radio Mr. Haikka, planning Director for Placer County, was reported to have said there is a plan to export the sewage effluent via a pipe down the Truckee River (the ultimate destination of that pipe was not stated). What is going on? Part of the apparent contradiction can be explained by the fact that there are two site locations under discussion; the site of the treatment plant and the site of disposal of the effluent from that plant. They need not be the same site or area.

Mr. Fred McLaren, Lahontan Regional Water Quality Control Board engineer will be the guest speaker at the next Environmental Impact Committee Meeting to be held May 21, 8 p.m., at the Huber House in Truckee.

Soroptimists

North Lake Tahoe Soroptimists elected Jean Holley of Dollar Point as their new president last week.

DeAnne Alcorn was elected vice president, Glenn Meixner, recording secretary, and Rosemarie Mandeville, treasurer.

Holly Wilson is the new corresponding secretary for the club. Arlene Loenig and Leah Hopkins became directors, and Carolee Dodge and Aileen Farnan (with alternate Corinne Quintana) became delegates.

A wine tasting and spaghetti dinner party, open to the public and sponsored by the Ladies Guild of the local Corpus Christi Church, will be held at the club house of the Tahoe City Golf Course Thursday, May 21. The party will commence at 6 p.m. and continue until 10 p.m. according to chairman Julie Fenley.

In addition to Bacchi's special spaghetti and wines by Almaden, the affair will feature the sparkling music of Darryl Fenley. Everyone is cordially invited to attend and the donation is $2.50 per person.

Women players dominated the top places as the spring session of the Tahoe City Amateur Bridge Tournament was concluded Sunday evening after six nights of play at Sunnyside Lodge. Ruth Taylor, who placed second in the tournament played last winter, placed first and she was followed closely by Judy Edinburg and Chick McBride. 'Tis rumored that the men players would like a special rematch to show that they cannot be completely outplayed.

Other top players, in order of finish, were: Jean Callender, Les Edinburg, Katharine Smith, Jack Semmens, Mike Mahaffey, Ron McIntyre, Macy Smith, Duane Perata, Maxine Polzin, Bobbie Taylor, Carl Edstrand, Dorothy Edstrand, Jeanne Spitsen, Pat Hodel, Ray Huston, Mildred Matthias and Norma Parson.

Tournament sponsors were Les and Judy Edinburg and a vote of thanks goes to them from all the players who participated.

Sixteen Brownie, Junior, and Cadette Girl Scout troops from Truckee, Tahoe City, Kings

Beach and Incline Village will participate in their third annual Camporee to be held at Sugar Pine Point State Park the weekend of May 22-24.

The Junior and Cadet troops will arrive Friday afternoon for a two-night camp-out. The Brownie troops will join the camp for Saturday's projects and activities and participate in the cook-out and evening campfire skits and singing program before leaving the older troops who will have their second night's camp-out. The Camporee will end Sunday afternoon.

The Scouts will learn the camp skills they'll use for next month's Day Camp and the summer's resident camps. They will also work toward their outdoor skill badges.

Mary Ann Burt and Roxanna Shaheen are the Camporee co-directors. Barbara Kearns, the outdoor skill training coordinator, held two workshops to train the adult volunteers.

Celebrating 33 years of married life May 8 were Ben and Jean Callender of Homewood. Jean says she came to Tahoe as a bride and it's been a short 33 years.

Mrs. John Evers is convalescing nicely at her Tahoe Tavern Heights home after undergoing surgery at Tahoe Forest Hospital last week.

Visiting with Farad and Phyllis Farr at their Highlands home is Farad's mother, Mrs. Shahre Gilanfar of San Rafael. She arrived in time for a Mother's Day celebration and will spend several weeks visiting with the Farris. The family is much enjoying the music played on Mrs. Gilanfar's Tar (a Persian musical instrument.)

Lynette Bechdolt entertained a group of friends at a bridge party at her Tahoe Tavern Heights home last Thursday evening with Pat Harder winning top playing honors of the evening. Winning a special prize was Kathy Mahaffey.

Celebrating a May 8 birthday was Mrs. Harvey Hopkins of the Highlands. Husband Harvey reports that Leah forgot to mark the date on her crowded calendar!

If you've seen Don Wilson this week, you've no doubt noticed the broad smile on his face and it's an indication that wife Lorri is due back at their Lake Forest home soon. The arrival date is this Thursday, May 14. Lorry and son Steven have been in New York for over two months visiting with Lorry's mother, Mrs. Mary Tyler, who underwent major surgery and has had a long but successful convalescence.

June 2 election board members of the north Tahoe area will attend a school of instruction to be held at the Tahoe City Community Center on Friday, May 22, and conducted by Placer County Clerk Maurine Dobbis. Starting time is 7:30 p.m.

Bob Intorf of San Mateo College was a visitor to the family home in Dollar Point last weekend.

Barbara Spitsen entertained a group of friends at a bridge luncheon at her Tahoe City home last Thursday and winners of the day were Rosemary Lindsey and Leah Hopkins.

Arriving last week from Sacramento to spend some time at their Tahoe home were Mr. and Mrs. John Diggs.

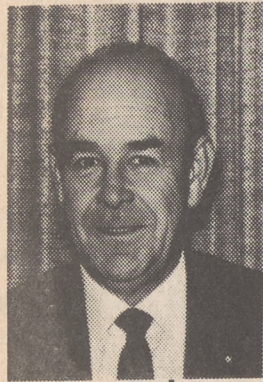

Royal and Donna Bagley became the proud parents of a son in a Reno hospital May 3. He was named Royal and arrived with a birth weight of eight pounds, one ounce.

Visiting with the Bagleys are Donna's mother and husband, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Woods of Skimass, Colorado. The Woods are former Squaw Valley residents.

Happy, happy birthday to Dave Edwards of Dollar Point who celebrated his special day last Friday.

IF YOU REMEMBER THIS

You are old enough to vote!

Been around Truckee long? Say since 1950? If you have you remember that brilliant red light, set high atop a pole on Truckee's main street, that would suddenly stab the night, burn a few brilliant minutes or so then as suddenly wink off.

Know what it meant? It was to tell the roving lone Deputy Sheriff—the law and order in Nevada County's 'east end'—to immediately call "Central" at the telephone office. Because that was her nighttime means of telling him that something illegal was up and to call her pronto.

That's all changed. "Central" with the headset has been replaced by a round dial. The red light atop the pole is long gone. The lone Sheriff Deputy is now supported by a corps of 10 to handle the growing throb of a swelling international highway transit, and problems of a restless new era.

Radio equipped cars receive calls instantly — and instantly the service of the uniformed officer is available. It's a feeling of comfort for the citizenry.

Sheriff Wayne Brown and staff (many of whom loyally serve him since the day he took oath of office) have seen the growing fulfillment of a long, thorough and carefully patterned intensification of a sturdy law and order program in Nevada County.

Sheriff Brown and staff are still "going to school." Because there is no rest from crime — neither is there rest from the study and development of methods of crime detection and crime prevention.

It was Sheriff Wayne Brown who laid it on the Supervisors' table that the old Truckee jail was a disgrace. And it was. So he got Truckee a new jail.

Today's system of radio communication by the Sheriff's department in Nevada County links the long arm of law and order with city police departments, state agencies—even to the realm of Washington and the FBI. Radio patrol cars follow the changing scene 24 hours each day, 7 days each week. No wonder Nevada County is high on the honor list, population-wise, for crime detection and prevention!

There has been 20 years of fruitful law abiding gone into a good thing under Sheriff Wayne Brown. Good for the good of Nevada County. Good for peaceful security.

Sheriff Wayne Brown is not a sensationalist or a show man. He's a good, steady and reliable law officer, proud of the office he respects and the people he represents.

Protect your investment in safe law and order. You can, on Tuesday, June 2—

Recreation commission plans summer program

The North Tahoe Recreation Commission is planning a summer program for its residents again this summer. The facilities of the Kings Beach Elementary School will be used.

One phase of the program will be held from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. daily, Monday through Thursday. This program will consist of classes in arts and crafts by Norma Schaumann, beginning sewing by Rae Payne, beginning guitar and piano by Mary Ann Atkinson, modern dance and acrobatics by Rita Leon, little theater by Jean Joynt, story hour by Nancy Adams, and beginning knitting by Darlene Bitler.

The second phase of the program will be held from 3 to 6 p.m. Group activities for girls and boys not participating in Little League will be organized.

The third phase is the adult program. At the present time program from 6 to 9 p.m. Interest of the participants will dictate the program. At the present time classes in arts and crafts, sewing, choir, exercise groups, weight lifting group and individual games are available.

Horseback riding and sailing are also included at special times during the week.

Friday is the fourth phase of the program. It is designed for special activities, free from the regular schedule. These activities must be signed for during the week. Campouts, hiking, golf, skating, picnics, fishing, etc. are the types of activities that will be arranged for and supervised by the staff.

There will be a sign up at Kings Beach school late in May for those persons who are interested in participating. More information will be available next week.

Hearing on dance center

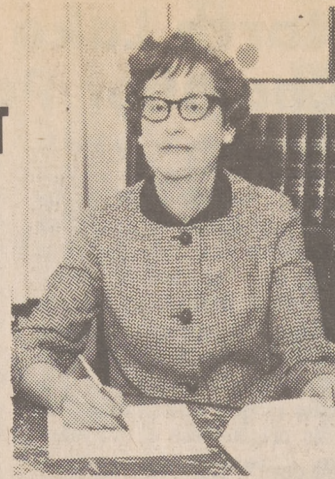

Tomorrow afternoon at 1:40, there will be a public hearing by the Placer County Zoning Administration on an application to convert a Kings Beach building into a teen dance center. Conference room A at the County Administrative Center in Auburn will be the scene of the hearing.

The building in question is at the Speckled Avenue-Coon Street intersection. Allied Enterprises, the applicant, has announced that the building would be used for teenage dances three months, and that the building might also be used by churches and other organizations part of the time.

FOR JUDGE of the SUPERIOR COURT CONSIDER

DEAN G. LAWRENCE

Advertising matter of any kind endorsed by me will be identified by my signature.

WHO ARE THE. . . NEVADA COUNTY FRIENDS OF THE COURT?

For two weeks people have asked this question. I refuse to name any of my friends who seemingly had a part in helping assemble the facts contained in a folder mailed to some Nevada County voters, and I will accept full responsibility for the circular.

The fact that the printer left his name and address off is unfortunate, and I do not feel he should be punished in any way for this omission. Indeed, I note that a great part of the literature in various Nevada County campaigns lacks printer identification.

After this confusion occurred, I decided to sign my name to all literature published in my behalf—including this advertisement.

To this date not one candidate has denied any fact contained in the survey of qualifications, and I feel it is interesting that instead of discussing the FACTS they wish to talk about the lack of a printer's name.

Your Superior Court Judge should deal in facts, judge on facts, and be guided by facts.

The truth must hurt, because no one yet has replied to these issues. I am confident that the voters will carefully consider every relevant fact as to the qualifications of their judge before voting for this important office.

In spite of the fact that I regret the way the information developed it still seems to me that the voting public deserves the right to know all about the candidates for judge of the Superior Court. Into the hands of the one you elect you put your property, your liberty, your life, and the lives of your children and elderly loved ones who cannot protect themselves. Don't forget this is a one-judge county.

Star Harbor: Development with conservation

EDITOR'S NOTE: With every body jumping on the ecology bandwagon, conservationists are now enjoying the power that comes with political backing. Up until recently, land developers had that power. "Grow! Grow!" was the popular cry, and every political leader was committed to the economic progress resulting from land development.

Now the tide has turned against the developers. They are finding it necessary to organize their own minority groups - as the conservationists have been doing for many years.

Just as there are all kinds of conservationist groups, and all kinds of individual conservationists, so are there all kinds of developers. To make broad general statements about either side would be to increase the kind of "polarization" that is increasing in many controversial issues. When polarization exists, words like "conservationist" and "developer" become emotionally charged and persons belonging in either category become stereotyped images. (When emotion takes over, even bystanders who have no opinions can be persecuted because of skin color, or for wearing a badge, or for being young).

Meanwhile back at Lake Tahoe, there are a few conservationists who want to keep the basin as they have always known it - a haven for rich country-estate owners, virtually undeveloped except for the second homes their families have "always" owned, with the rest preserved as a wilderness area.

On the other hand there are a few developers whose only interest in the Tahoe Basin is to make the quickest, fastest buck possible and then move on to greener (and bluer) pastures. At points between these two extremes, however, there are a vast majority of persons who agree with the concept that created the Tahoe Regional Planning Agency. (At present, these appear to be the "silent" majority, because in cases of polarization the extremists seem to do most of the talking). The concept behind CTRPA is PLANNED DEVELOPMENT - neither "no development" nor "money trip."

Actually, a great many real estate developers are sincere conservationists who, in the course of their development activities, are with complete consistency and integrity attempting to make Lake Tahoe a haven for the greatest possible number of residents and-or visitors, without endangering the ecological balance of the basin. These people are endeavoring to improve upon natural conditions by taking measures to slow down Lake eutrophication - whether battling erosion by vegetating man-made cuts and fills, or transforming a stagnant swampy marshland on the waterfront into usable landscape containing the most elegant spawning-channels any rainbow trout could imagine.

Such conservationist-developers deserve to be considered individually by the public as well as by the political powers who represent the public.)

By RUTH BALLING
Sun Staff Writer

Typical of conservation-oriented development is Bill Collins' Star Harbor, which is presently under fire from various critics who claim that it would contribute to the pollution of Lake Tahoe. "Nothing could be farther from the truth," Bill states. "The whole concept of the public-private marina was based on the original 1980 Tahoe Master Plan, which provided for two harbors at Tahoe City - one of them to be adjacent to the existing public ramp near the Coast Guard station.

"Placer County held countless hearings on that plan, and Placer has been by far the strictest county on the lake in adhering to it, Star Harbor was zoned TR-2 - allowing a maximum of 220 units at 12.5 density per acre; we have planned only 130 units with a density of 7.65; and, when my plans were accepted by the planning commission, the development was to include construction of the harbor of refuge indicated on the master plan.

"Now, with the entire project nearing completion, construction of the marina has been stopped by political pressure from individuals who are simply unaware of the full situation."

Bill Collins and his wife Jan have lived in the Tahoe area for nearly a decade, and the last two of their six sons were born at Tahoe Forest Hospital. "We love this lake," Bill says. "We want to do all we can to protect it."

"That's why I am proud of the work already done at Star Harbor, and especially proud of the rock-lined fish-spawning channels we have built through the property, which in addition to their aesthetic value will save the lives of countless rainbow trout each year."

Bill explained that the Burton Creek watershed flows through his property. A dam at Antone Meadows, previously used to supply water for the old Tahoe City PUD, shuts off Burton Creek overnight each spring (in order to increase water supplies for the summer months). At the time of the shut-off, rainbow spawn are literally left "high and dry" to die in the ponds that are left in the meadow. "The Department of Fish and Game has estimated an annual production of 25,000 fish here, with only about 10 per cent of them getting back into the lake," Bill stated.

He added, "Historically, Fish and Game has allowed water from the spring-fed fish hatchery to flow out at random into this property. By diverting the several eroding channels from the hatchery into a single channel, we have added erosion control as well as - I am convinced - pollution control.

"The land has always been marshy, with many stagnant pools that fill with algae. These resulted from the varying flows of about eight different recognizable channels that came down from the approximately 4,000-acre watershed; they were regularly flushed into the Lake at flood intervals. The Star Harbor project provides diversion of these waters into deep channels, completely lined at bottom and sides by rocks, with fish ladders of natural rock built to accommodate the lowest legal lake level.

"The large rocks not only minimize mud and silt flow, they provide places for little fish to hide. We're planting watercress in the channels and vegetation (including more than 100 aspens that we transplanted from the building sites instead of destroying them) along the sides. The channels are 8 to 10 feet deep - ample for increased use of wild life, and to accommodate unusual flood conditions."

Bill indicated that after all the planting is in and other work completed, the channels will be drained and cleaned - an operation that can take place periodically.

"- But if we can't build the harbor, all else is lost."

When he bought the property 5 years ago, Bill offered to cooperate with the Wild Life Conservation Board by building a breakwater, adjacent to the (then 5-year-old) public launching ramp, which would protect the public ramp from rough winds, eliminate the existing erosion along the riprap wall from its 230-foot fill, and afford proper circulation of the channel flows from Star Harbor. "This would save the state $100,000," Bill says, "by minimizing the construction necessary to fulfill the master plan."

Expensive non-corrodable sheet piling, imported from England, is stacked on the beach, ready to create a harbor that would extend to a point just even with the Coast Guard pier, which is longer than the public ramp. "Among other things," Bill says, "the harbor has been attacked as a 'navigational hazard' - when its effect would be the opposite, as launchings from the unprotected public ramp are often very rough. Also, contrary to some opinions, it would not interfere with trolling fishermen because this water is too shallow for trolling.

"The only fill used would be that required to be compatible with the fill put in by the state for the existing launch ramp. It would allow a third launching space, plus a service area on public land."

Bill himself is financing a 5-year study of his project to determine its ecological effects. The University of California at Davis is helping to select forms of plant life for revegetation studies, and Bill is cooperating fully with a graduate student from there who is using Star Harbor for his master's thesis. "Research and development go hand-in-hand," Bill says. "I grew up believing in conservation; my father was instrumental in drafting the first water pollution control bill in the state of Indiana, and he had me out planting evergreens for erosion control before I was 5 years old."

"My concern is not just for progress; I've had to indemnify the county for several trees, just to save them - I took two trips to Auburn for the sake of one tree this year - and I want to see wildlife preserved, and water saved and controlled."

"By the time the 5-year study is completed, we'll know enough to set criteria and guidelines for erosion and silt control, spawning procedures, and many other things we don't know today."

Bill Collins has studied at Franklin College in Indiana, also at Purdue and U.S.C. He's still studying - and he admits the "school" he's in now is more challenging, more exciting, and more controversial than any he previously attended.

State will phase out camping at Tahoe City

By Betty Layton

The Advisory Committee for the Tahoe State Parks met Wednesday evening at the home of the Harold Farris in Tahoe City. Several park representatives from Stockton and Sacramento were present to go over the progress and plans for the Tahoe parks with the committee.

Roy Hunter, with the park and recreation department, outlined the proposed plans for the Tahoe Recreation Park in Tahoe City. He stated that an agreement has been made with the Regents of the University of California that scientists, under a federal grant, will continue studies on the quality of water at Tahoe on the site of the park. The park itself contains 13 and a half acres but the research headquarters will occupy less than two acres. He stated that no changes in the overnight camping facilities will take place this year; however, they will phase out the campers with the completion of additional campsites at Sugar Pine Point State Park.

It was felt that the State Park in Tahoe City would be better suited for a day use picnic area.

Hunter stated that the Tahoe City Public Utility District recreation commission had requested consideration of the land for local recreational needs at such time as the State Parks system wished to dispose of it.

Dick Johnston, head of the park system in this area, announced that the California Department of Parks and Recreation Commissioners will meet in Squaw Valley June 11 and 12. They are concerned with the continual pursuit of the recreation outlet in the Tahoe area parks.

Judge Bill Vernon, long time resident and historian of the area, was elected chairman of the committee and Mrs. Isobel Bruchlacher will serve as secretary. Dave Stollery, outgoing chairman, was honored for serving two years as the chairman and will continue to act as vice-chairman for the coming year. It was announced that the Ehrman House in Sugar Pine Point State Park will again be the setting for the advisory committee's art show for local Tahoe artists in September. It is planned that a horseless carriage exhibit of antique cars will take place at the same time.

The park has never been formally dedicated and Hunter thought that a date coinciding with the two shows may be possible.

The next meeting of the committee will take place June 17 at the Ehrman House and admittance will be an artifact of Tahoe. A pot luck dinner is planned and visitors are welcome.

Lillian Farr announced that the rooms depicting the early days of Tahoe on display in the Ehrman House have received several new museum pieces and Bill Grimm has enlarged some early day historic pictures which will be mounted and hung in the house. She urged anyone wishing to donate Tahoe artifacts to contact her or the State Park Department.

KELLY SPRINGFIELD TIRES

Big clean-up this weekend

Many public-spirited citizens, all eager to unleash energy pent-up during the long wintry spring at Tahoe, are scanning the skies and hoping it won't snow again this weekend, as it did last.

Saturday and Sunday, beginning at nine each morning, work crews representing many area service clubs, plus others interested in keeping the community clean, will range the roads and highways at North Lake Tahoe on a large scale cleanup drive.

The drive, erroneously reported in last week's paper to be sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce, is actually sponsored by the Community Council with Chamber cooperation, and the fire protection districts at Kings Beach, Tahoe City, Squaw Valley and Meeks Bay will direct the activities. Collection and disposal of roadside litter is the main purpose of the drive, which the Council hopes will inspire a general cleanup of yards and vacant lots throughout the area. Household trash, old appliances and any other personal articles will not be picked up by the volunteers, and each householder is urged to carry out his own beautification project.

All volunteer help, including the loan of vehicles to help haul trash, will be welcomed. Points of departure for crews will be the local fire stations.

Persons active in planning the clean-up are Bob Butler, Squaw

Valley Fire Department; Don Howard, Kings Beach Fire Department; Ray Martin, Meeks Bay Fire Department; Jerry Gay and Rolf Wigard, Tahoe City Fire Department; Betty Layton, Mickey Badiali, and Ray Huston, North Lake Tahoe Chamber of Commerce; Mary Clarey, community council; Mel McAllister; Dave McBride; Bill Files, Placer County Road Department; Doug Sousa, California Division of Highways; Capt. Max Bennett, Placer County Sheriff's Department; Lt. Bert Kershaw, Nevada County Sheriffs Department; Leigh Rovzar, Alpine Springs Water Co.; Bob Easton, Boy Scout troop 27; Dottie Hart, Women's Club of North Tahoe; H. Adkins, Dorothy Swanson; Ron Gregg, North Tahoe Trail Dusters; Sil Achiro, Tahoe City Sanitary Service; Noel Hubbert, Tahoe Sanitary Service; and Judge Robert Fugazi.

Issue Kingswood building permit

Building permits for $920,920 have been issued by the Placer County Building Department to Homewood Investment Company, of Tahoe City, for the firm's phase three development in the Kingswood Village project.

In addition to 64 condominium units already completed, the third phase of the company's development in the project will include 50 two-story units featuring a new concept in recreational living, to begin construction in August.

Slated for an early completion date at the Kingswood project will be a swimming pool, to be completed in July, and a tennis court, ready for use sometime in early summer.

Located on Highway 267 and Commonwealth Drive, between Truckee and Kings Beach, the new development will feature all underground utilities, constructed with minimum tree removal—units built to natural contour of the land.

Kingswood Village Condominiums, with F.H.A. financing, won a national architectural award for excellent design. Architect for the award-winning project is MacKinlay-Winnacker, of Orinda.

Install PTA president

Mrs. Robert Lehner, of Truckee, was installed as president of the Truckee P. T. A. for the 1970-71 school year during installation ceremonies recently. Other new officers installed included: Mrs. Jack Spruill, first vice president; Rex Anderson, second vice president; Mrs. Steven Barringer, secretary; Mrs. Rex Jeffries, treasurer; Mrs. Paul Doyle, auditor; Mrs. William Donnelly, parliamentarian; and Mrs. Sky Miles, historian.

Rasmussen named to commission

George Rasmussen, a four-year resident of the Donner Lake area and a Truckee businessman, is the new appointee to the county planning commission.

Willie Curran, chairman of the board of supervisors and representative of the eastern portion of the county, last week nominated Rasmussen to fill a vacancy created when Schuyler Miles resigned the post. Fellow supervisors unanimously approved Curran's selection.

"He's got a four-wheel drive vehicle for winter, and a nice car for summer," volunteered Curran.

Curran, who has traveled his share of miles through "rain and storm and sleet and snow" to keep Tuesday board meeting dates, fully realizes the significance of adequate transportation for those who commute from the up-country to the courthouse to keep civic assignments.

"Above all he is open minded, and I believe he can hold his head up under pressure," were other qualifications Curran cited for Rasmussen.

Miles served two months on the commission and resigned because he said he felt other commitments prohibited him from doing full justice to the planning commission. He replaced Francis Longo who resigned after an almost seven-year tenure.

Club honors

Winning many honors for the past year's club activities was the Tahoe City Women's Club and these honors were acknowledged at the Sutter District Convention held in Sacramento recently. The Sutter District is comprised of 31 clubs and the local group won a "best of clubs" award for their work in Indian Affairs as well as six first places, two second places and an honorable mention.

First places were earned in the categories of community improvement, status of woman, children and youth, conservation, veterans' affairs and cultural heritage.

Elected and installed to the district office of auditor was Marjorie Spafford.

President Marjorie Thomasberg reports that all club members share in the honors with special mention going to Isabel Brucklacher and Eunice Henriksen.

Local club members attending the convention were president Thomasberg, Rose Sergi, Isabel Brucklacher, Eunice Henriksen, Mitzi Stollery and Marjorie Spafford.

TRUCKEE-DONNER PUBLIC UTILITY DISTRICT WATTS WATT

Jay Seefeld, Operations Field Representative of REA witnessed the signing of a 2% 30 year $130,000 loan for new construction. This is a long term obligation and will be used only if required.

The 400' submersible pump located in Prosser Heights developed a malfunction in the wiring and had to be pulled from its casing. The repairs have been made at a cost exceeding $2,000, including the rental of a heavy duty crane from Reno. There were no customers without water due to the storage tank being maintained at near capacity.

An easement to Shane Bros. property on the shortcut was discussed. A possible entry will be made at the S. E. corner of the Recreation Park Land and then east of PUD property and Recreation Land. The required easement will be 60' in width. A San Francisco contractor has asked for costs of a power line to the Martis Valley Dam site, the line will be approximately three miles in length and will be needed for a two year duration. The irrecoverable costs will be absorbed by the contractor.

Electric and Water Facilities are being installed at the new Bank of America Building site. A four inch line is being extended for future needs in that area.

House Bill 908 was reviewed. This bill, if it passes without amendments, would tax all public electric utilities in the State 14% on the gross revenue. It is scheduled for presentation May 19th with the enactment date January 1971. This bill would nearly doom many public agencies such as ours as 14% is taking all of the existing margin from the agencies and placing it into State funds earmarked basically for educational needs. The 10" water line being done by Alpine Smith is nearly 50% completed. The bid was awarded to Smith Construction as a result of his low bid. Bids ranged from $15,749 to a high of $77,013.

One bid was received for the sale of bonds for the Nevada City School District. That bid being from the Bank of America. The Board adopted Resolution 70-116 (A resolution of Award to the Bank of America, the Nevada City School District Bonds).

The Purchasing Agent reported that Sierra Truck and Motors was the low bidder for the dump truck for the Dept. of Public Works, and the bid was awarded to them.

The Board opened bids for another truck for the Dept. of Public Works with identical specifications and two bids were received with the low bidder being Hockett Auto Sales. Bids were referred to the Purchasing Agent, Dept. of Public Works and Co. Counsel for review and recommendation.

The Auditor-Controller presented the report of his department.

The County Counsel presented the following Resolutions which were adopted:

Resolution 70-117 (A Resolution establishing a Nev. Co. Air Pollution Control District).

Resolution 70-118 (A Resolution closing a portion of Donner Pass Road on May 9, 1970, for a parade sponsored by the Truckee Chamber of Commerce).

Resolution 70-119 (A Resolution releasing the Sis-Q Flying Service, Inc., for responsibility pertaining to lease, Management and Concession Agreement at the Nevada County Airport).

Resolution 70-120 (A Resolution appointing Mr. John Trauner as the representative of the County to apply for funds for the salary of the Veterans Affairs Development).

Resolution 70-121 (A Resolution authorizing preparation, execution and filing and making application for formation of a County Service for Tahoe Northwoods Development).

The Director of the Department of Public Works, and the Planning Director presented the reports of their department. At this time a group of young people, appeared to ask for a permit to go ahead with a rock festival which they have had planned for two months. The group stated that they had approval of the Sheriff's Department to give such a Festival.

The County Counsel stated that there has been a lack of communication. The Ordinance was passed in January, and doesn't give any County Official any authority to grant permission. Proper procedure is to apply to the Board of Supervisors. The Ordinance points out very carefully the information that must be supplied. After the application is received the Board of Supervisors, the Planning Officer, etc., to make a study and report back and then the Board holds a Public Hearing on the information presented, and then as a result of this hearing makes a decision on whether or not to issue a permit. Such a permit was never applied for.

The Sheriff indicated that the D. A. stated that the ordinance was not sufficient to stop the rock festival. He told the people he had no right, nor reason to stop them. It was his understanding as far as he was concerned that they were to have a rock festival of the same type that they had during the earlier week, about 400 or 500 people, then the thing snowballed just a bit Mr. Brown stated, and instead of the normal 400 or 500 people, suddenly the number raised to 1500 to 3000 people that might come. Mr. Brown stated it alarmed him that he didn't think we could handle this many people.

Further discussion ensued, and the Board stated that the law was set up in January. The Board has no permit to work with. It was never applied for. The Board is not responsible for their Ordinance, and it would at this point be a violation of the law to permit them to proceed.

The Board indicated that they are willing to talk to the people over for some future date, but May 9th or 10th is too soon.

Board recessed for lunch. AFTERNOON SESSION: Meeting reconvened at 1:50 P.M., Supervisor Lawrence absent.

Correspondence presented and considered by the Board. The following Preliminary Budgets were preliminarily adopted:

Board of Supervisors $57,331.00 Auditor-Controller 68,803.00 Data Processing 44,022.00 Sheriff's Office 23,095.00

Ross McBurney appointed as Member at Large of the Land Conservation Act Advisory Board.

George Rasmussen appointed to replace Dumas on the Nevada County Planning Commission.

There being no further business, meeting adjourned at 4:00 P. M.

I, THEO. A. KOHLER, JR., Co. LEGAL NOTICE

RESOLUTION NO. 70-110 RESOLUTION OF INTENTION TO SELL THE WATER RIGHTS TO THE GLENSHIRE MUTUAL WATER COMPANY AND SETTING TIME AND PLACE OF PUBLIC HEARING THEREON IN GLENSHIRE UNIT NO. 3 ASSESSMENT DISTRICT, COUNTY OF NEVADA, STATE OF CALIFORNIA

BE IT RESOLVED that it is the intention of the Board of Supervisors of the County of Nevada, State of California, that the system of domestic water supply in Glenshire Unit No. 3 Assessment District, County of Nevada, State of California, be sold to the Glenshire Mutual Water Company without competitive bids. The Board of Supervisors of the County of Nevada hereby finds that the said improvements for supplying a system of domestic water supply in Glenshire Unit No. 3 Assessment District, County of Nevada, State of California, be sold to the Glenshire Mutual Water Company without competitive bids. The Board of Supervisors of the County of Nevada hereby finds that the said improvements for supplying a system of domestic water supply cannot be economically operated and maintained by the County of Nevada for the reason that the County of Nevada has no facilities for the operation or maintenance of said system; for the reason that the Glenshire Mutual Water Company is the only public utility which has the facilities for the operation or maintenance of said system for supplying domestic water, with the possible exception of the Truckee-Donner Public Utility District; that said Truckee-Donner Public Utility District has unconditionally stated its position of refusal to render service to the area and that therefore the advertising for bids for the sale of said system would be futile under the circumstances and the public interest will therefore not be furthered by asking for competitive bids for the sale of said system of domestic water supply.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that Tuesday, the 9th day of June, 1970, at the hour of 10:05 o'clock A.M. of said day, at the meeting place of the Board of Supervisors of the County of Nevada, located in the Nevada County Courthouse, 201 Church Street, Nevada City, California, is hereby fixed as the time and place when and where persons objecting to the sale proposed herein to be made of the system of domestic water supply to the Glenshire Mutual Water Company, may appear before the Board of Supervisors of the County of Nevada, and show cause why the proposed sale should not be made. This Resolution of Intention to make said sale shall be published once a week for two (2) successive weeks in the Sierra Sun & Truckee Republican, which is a newspaper hereby designated by this Board of Supervisors as the newspaper in which this Resolution of Intention and all notices or resolutions required to be published in these proceedings shall be published, said newspaper being a newspaper of general circulation in the County of Nevada.

I HEREBY CERTIFY that the foregoing Resolution was duly and regularly adopted by the Board of Supervisors of the County of Nevada, State of California, at a regular meeting thereof, held on the 28th day of April, 1970, by the following vote, to wit:

AYES: Supervisors Buchanan, Lawrence, Long, Thomas & Curran.

Annual bicycle rodeo May 28 in Kings Beach

The Tahoe Sierra Junior Women's Club will host its annual Bicycle Rodeo for students at the Kings Beach Elementary School on May 28.

The annual rodeo will be in observance of the 14th annual American Bike Month celebration.

The event will include a bicycle safety check, a written examination and an obstacle course attraction. Assisting the Juniors will be members of the California Highway Patrol.

Mrs. George Towner, chairman of the bike rodeo, said, "We believe it is terribly important that every cyclist recognizes the fact that he is really the driver of a legal vehicle, not a rider on a toy."

She said persons riding bikes are responsible for the safe operations of the bike just as drivers are for the vehicles they operate.

The Bicycle Institute of America, Inc., is mounting a major drive through May to acquaint every cyclist with his responsibility of keeping bikes in safe operating condition and to operate them safely in traffic.

Mrs. Towner extended a plea to all parents to teach their youngsters the following rules for safe bicycle driving:

- Obey all traffic regulations, lights, stop signs, one-way streets.
- Keep right. Ride single file. Don't weave in and out, swerve race or stunt in traffic. Never hitch a ride on a truck or other vehicle.
- For night riding, be sure to have a white light in front and a red light or state approved reflector in the rear. Have a clear-sounding horn or bell to warn others of your approach.
- Slow down at all intersections, look both ways, then proceed with caution.
- Watch out for cars pulling into traffic or for doors opening.
- Don't carry passengers or packages that interfere with your vision or control.
- Always use proper hand signals for stopping and turning.

"American Bike Month is dedicated to reaching every cyclist in the country and we hope every parent, teacher and other responsible citizens will help us achieve the goal," Mrs. Towner concluded.

Seek queen for Maid of Nevada County pageant

Every young girl dreams of one day being a beauty queen.

The second annual Maid of Nevada County Beauty Pageant this year will make that dream come true for one lucky girl in Nevada County.

Sponsored by the Nevada County Chamber of Commerce, the beauty pageant will be held June 19 at the Grass Valley Elks Hall.

Contestants must be residents of Nevada County, 17-years of age and not have reached their 25th birthday. They must be single and never have been married and must be American citizens, Marie Novak, chairman of the beauty contest, said.

Chamber officials said each contestant will receive an official Maid of Nevada County swim-suit for the pageant.

They reported that color photographs of the queen and her runners-up will appear in Sunset Magazine.

The new Maid of Nevada County will serve as official hostess for the 1970-71 ensuing year and she will represent the County and the Nevada County Chamber of Commerce in varied official duties.

Mrs. Novak said that during the 8:30 p.m. pageant, contestants will have an opportunity to engage in a well-rounded program of competition in speech, charm, poise and personality.

She said all contestants will be judged in evening gowns and swim suits for beauty of face and figure. They also will be judged on speech, charm, poise and personality.

Applications for the beauty contest are available at The Union in Grass Valley and Nevada City, most apparel shops in Nevada County and at the county chamber office.

In Truckee, applications are available at the Sierra Sun.

The winner will be crowned Maid of Nevada County and will receive a trophy and $100 cash award. The first runner-up will receive a trophy and a $75 cash award and the second runner-up will receive a trophy and a $50 cash award.

The new Maid of Nevada County will participate in the Maid of California contest to be held at Cal-Expo in late summer.

Training course for Bible School

A teacher training course for Sunday School officers and teachers, Vacation Bible School instructors, and all others interested in Christian pedagogy, will be held Thursday and Friday nights, May 14 and 15, in the chapel of Sierra Bible Church, located on Church Street in Truckee, with the two night sessions being held from 7 to 9 p.m.

Rev. Lee Port of Williams and Robert L. Welch from Windsor will be sharing the teaching responsibilities with methods, music, audio-visual, etc. being stressed for a maximum of helpfulness in this field.

MILITARY AWARD - Cadet John Kravchok, son of Col. and Mrs. Peter Kravchok - U.S. Army retired, of Crystal Bay, received an American Legion Department of Nevada $100 award from Nevada Department Commander John M. Lindsay during Governor's Day ceremonies last week at University of Nevada, Kravchok, a junior student and member of the university's Reserve Officer Training Corps, received the award as an advanced course cadet consistently displaying those qualities required of an officer in the US Army.

'Tahoe needs resident on county commission'

Peter Kravchok of Crystal Bay, a democrat, has signified his intention to run for the at-large seat on the Washoe County Commission now held by J. D. McKenzie.

"I believe Lake Tahoe needs a resident to fully represent the area . . . but I am fully aware of the population growth in all of Washoe County and have a feeling for the problems of downtown Reno, Verdi, Gerlach and outlying sections," Kravchok said.

Kravchok, 52, has been a resident of Crystal Bay for six years since retirement from Travis Air Force Base, Calif.

Active in zoning and conservation matters at Lake Tahoe, he served as president of the Nevada Lake Tahoe Property Owners Association and board member of the League to Save Lake Tahoe.

Pointing out that he has no business to worry about, Kravchok said he believed the county commission is a full-time job. He said he believes authority in zoning and development at Lake Tahoe should rest with the county commission.

"I'm grateful to see the bi-state agency and planning agency in effect, but it is unfortunate that Lake Tahoe is located in two states and five counties."

"There are bound to be ruffled feeling for a time, and the new agency will interpose many problems, but we need a control center and it should rest in the county commission."

Kravchok said he will campaign from a 1929 model A Ford pickup.

The candidate and his wife, Mary, reside at Highway 28 and Gonowabi Road. Their son, John, 20, is a junior at the University of Nevada. Another son, James, 13, is a student at Incline Junior - Senior High School. A daughter, Mrs. Jean Decker lives in Roseville, Calif.

HIGHEST HONOR - Cadet Lt. Col. Richard W. Sherwood, of Crystal Bay, and Reno is congratulated by Nevada's Gov. Paul Laxalt, left, after Laxalt presented him the Governor's Medal, highest award of the University of Nevada's Reserve Officers Training Corps. At right is Col. Robert Hill, head of the university's department of military science. Sherwood, a senior, was awarded the medal for his exceptional proficiency in military training, observance of the rules of military courtesy and intelligent attention to duty. The award was made last week during Governor's Day ceremonies at University of Nevada, Reno. Sherwood is married to the former Su Burge and they have an eight-months-old daughter, Leanne.

Fire Sirens plan party

President Ella Dolley of the Fire Sirens has announced the group's annual card party and luncheon will be held Thursday, May 21 from 11:30 to 3:30 p.m.

Proceeds from the fund raising event will go toward purchase of additional equipment for the North Lake Tahoe Fire Protection District for which the Sirens are an auxiliary group.

Luncheon Chairman Rosemary Lane said an Oriental theme will feature the lunch with all the food home cooked by members. Decorations will also be in the Oriental theme according to chairman Faye Horsley. Virginia Parsons is chairman for hostesses.

Mrs. Lane said menu items were chosen at a potluck dinner meeting last month held at the home of the Ed Blacks. Members tasted various homemade dishes at that meeting to select the menu.

4-H knitters

The regular knitting meeting of Incline Village 4-H Club was held in the home of Mrs. Richard Bullard.

Also present were Luann Wild, Sandie Dolley. Members absent, Leslee Lollich, Leisa Echevarrieta, Peggy Cauthghlin, Tani Roberts.

Knitting class is held weekly. For further information call 831-0163. Girls between the ages of 9 thru 19 may join.

Second year girls Cindy Dolley and Leisa Echevarrieta are making sweaters and the rest of the girls are first year. They are making the following items: scarf, slippers and octakit.

All will be entered in the Washoe County Fair this summer.

Club sponsors gymkana, show

The Sierra Morgan Horse Club is sponsoring an all breed horse show and gymkana on May 30 and 31.

The two-day NSHA, AHSA and RC&CHA approved show will be held at the Washoe County Fair Grounds in Reno and will feature all breed halter classes as well as a full schedule of open performance classes including reining and cutting with cattle.

Show time will be 8 a.m. daily.

Young GOP's meet

The "liberal" platform adopted by the Nevada Democratic Party came under fire at a weekend convention of the state Young Republicans at Sahara-Tahoe.

Lt. Gov. Ed Fike, Republican candidate for governor, commented that the Democratic platform, adopted in April, leaves the "average" Democrat "no place to go, unless he supports the kind of wild-eyed liberalism most Nevadans find hard to stomach."

Referring to a Democratic resolution that persons who refuse to fight in Vietnam and go to other countries should be granted amnesty by the United States, Fike said it "dares to insult . . . patriotic American GI's who have fought in Vietnam by offering amnesty to those who have run away from this country."

William Raggio, Washoe County district attorney and a Republican candidate for the U.S. Senate, said President Nixon is entitled to some "breathing room" on his decision to send troops into Cambodia.

Raggio noted he does not know if time will prove Nixon was right, but the move "certainly makes some sense."

Raggio indicated both the Nixon side and dissidents should "cool" their rhetoric. "It's time for a moratorium. Even if it's only for a day. It would be a blessing. The din of protest has reached such a pitch, it is pollution."

Jury probes Incline district

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the final part in a series of articles reporting the findings of a Washoe County Grand Jury investigation into former alleged improprieties between Incline Village General Improvement District (IVGID) and Crystal Bay Development Co.)

By STEVE KECH
Incline Correspondent

The Washoe County Grand Jury impaneled to investigate an alleged conspiracy to defraud purchasers of real property interest in the title to Burnt Cedar and Incline beaches has exonerated the trustees of Incline Village General Improvement District (IVGID).

Also investigated was a conflict-of-interest charge between the trustees and Crystal Bay Development Co., which was described in previous articles. Land owners believed that purchase of property within IVGID and the incidental acquisition of one share of stock in Incline Village Recreation Association had entitled them to title interest in the beaches.

(The recreation association is a non-profit corporation formed for the purpose of maintaining and operating beach and recreational facilities at Incline and Burnt Cedar Beaches.)

"Consequently, action by the developer (Crystal Bay Development Co.) in offering to sell the beaches to the District (IVGID) caused the petitioners to feel that they were being defrauded of their rights and interests in subject beaches," the Grand Jury report points out. After examination of the as-from the developer and the deed restrictions on the property, the Grand Jury concluded that "there was reasonable basis for misunderstanding concerning the interest acquired by a purchaser of Incline Village property in the Burnt Cedar and Incline beaches."

The Grand Jury decided not to determine what, if any, interest in the beach properties had been acquired by prospective buyers because "such is essentially a question of law, which is beyond the purview of the investigation of the Grand Jury."

It was noted that a civil suit, "Crystal Bay Development Co. v. A. D. Connick, et al," concerning ownership of the beach properties had been filed and "was ultimately dismissed by stipulation of attorneys and respective parties on or about April 11, 1968."

The Washoe panel also addressed itself to making recommendations for future legislative action to prevent future conflicts of interest such as occurred between Crystal Bay Development Co. and IVGID.

Those recommendations were: 1. Extension of the application of the Special District Control Law to all present districts and their projects. The law only provides this control for newly created districts.

2. Extension of the application of Local Government Purchasing Act to all districts. This law standardizes bidding procedures and the letting of contracts.

3. A set of requirements to determine the purchase price of property acquired or sold by the districts is needed.

4. Require at least one county commissioner to serve as trustee on the original board of trustees for any newly formed district.

5. Require full disclosure of trustees' property ownership, business and financial associations and interests; suggest written declaration to be filed with county clerk.

6. Amend a section of the state code to require that all special assessment improvement come into a district after completion "to avoid the possible advancement of public money which is contrary" to the Nevada Constitution.

7. Require by state law that districts submit all improvement projects to public bidding.

8. Require a standard accounting procedure for all districts from their date of creation.

9. Designate the county treasury as the depository of district funds and revenue, with the county auditor controlling disbursements of funds after action by the trustees.

10. Require full disclosure by a developer as to his ownership, interest and financial status at the time of petitioning for the creation of an improvement district.

11. Prohibit a developer from selling easements and other necessary acquisitions by a district for more than nominal consideration. This would include streets, a sewer collection system and sewer plant site.

Few new ideas voiced

By STEVE KECH
Sun Staff Writer

CRYSTAL BAY - Few, if any, significantly new ideas were voiced for the preservation and protection of the environment of Lake Tahoe at the Regional Planning Agency Environmental Planning Conference which concluded last week.

In fact, Raymond Smith, a member of the bi-state Advisory Planning Commission, criticized many participants for "lack of knowledge of what's happening in the Basin."

Smith, who prepared the master plan approved for the Nevada portion of the Basin, said that many of those taking the conservation tack in the discussion did not know that developers already do not have a "free hand" at Tahoe and are subject to numerous agency determinations and policies.

Suggestions raised at the conference included a moratorium on all construction, banning of the automobile, the undertaking of studies on how many people the Basin can hold without seriously disrupting ecology, phasing out existing highways, and providing of parks and recreational opportunities for all, "not just the rich," to enjoy.

Many believe that development already has overtaxed the 34,000 acre-foot annual water supply. (That figure was derived from the proposed bi-state water compact which would allocate 23,000 acre-feet to California and 11,000 acre-feet to Nevada.)

Many, particularly agency members, voiced the belief that certain Basin properties now in public hands could be returned to private ownership in exchange for other properties to consolidate existing park lands and create new parks.

Robert Royston, landscape architect from San Francisco, told the land-use panel that dwellings should be clustered and have access provided by some means other than the automobile. He suggested that the auto might even be phased out completely.

David Irmer of General American Development Co., which has several developments around Lake Tahoe, said he "mirrored Royston's sentiments," and that the development fraternity is trying to meet the need for housing at the Lake while taking ecological considerations into account.

The effect of surrounding areas, particularly ski areas, was emphasized as needing more study.

Singled out by several persons was the belief that Lake Tahoe now is the playground for "white, affluent Americans." They believe low-cost recreation and housing should be available for blacks and other minorities.

The bi-state agency now has the large task of reading the transcripts of each of the panel sessions and several reports prepared by the experts.

An interim plan for the Basin is expected by mid-June. The general plan that will cover Lake Tahoe's development for many years by law must be ready 15 months from now.

Washoe okays Tahoe plan

RENO - The Regional Planning Commission has given its approval to a general development plan for the Washoe County portion of the Lake Tahoe Basin. The plan, adopted March 6 by the now-defunct Nevada Tahoe Regional Planning Agency, and effective last Wednesday, will be sent to the county commissioners for their approval.

Bodies are found in plane wreck

TONOPAH, Nev. (AP)—Searchers Friday sighted a plane in arid central Nevada, and the Civil Air Patrol said "at least two bodies" were found in the wreckage.

Helicopter pilot Rick Blake more sighted the plane near Beatty in southern Nye County, believed to be carrying Las Vegas contractor Ben O. Davey and his son, Charles, 26, and a friend, William Cunningham. There was no word of any survivors.

The discovery ended five days of searching by planes that traced and retraced Davey's route from Las Vegas to Reno, Davey radioed Monday he was trying to climb above a snowstorm and was not heard from since.

In northern Nevada, other CAP craft continued looking for a rented plane carrying Navy Electrician I.C. Frederick L. Evans of Point Mugu, Calif. Evans disappeared after leaving Winnemucca early Sunday on a return flight to Oxnard, Calif.

Land swap halt made

RENO (AP) - A halt has been ordered to all but a few proposed exchanges of arid Nevada public land for private land on the Northern California coast needed to complete the scenic Point Reyes National Seashore. The Bureau of Land Management here Friday stopped the proposed exchange of 30,000 acres in three Nevada counties for less acreage along the Marin County, Calif., seashore in response to public opposition.

Nevada pay question raise

STATELINE (AP) - John Bonner said Friday he thinks any state employee pay raise voted by the legislature's Interim Finance Committee would be illegal.

Bonner is a former U.S. attorney from Las Vegas who says he is a candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor.

He spoke to a service club convention here.

Bonner said he disagreed with Democratic Atty. Gen. Harvey Dickerson who held that the committee could legally approve the $50 a month raise sought by Gov. Paul Laxalt.

The need for the exchanges was removed last month when President Nixon signed a bill authorizing appropriation of $38.5 million to complete acquisition of 64,000 acres for the seashore. About $6.5 million is expected to become available this year.

The original $14 million appropriated in 1962 by Congress later was raised to $19 million, but because of rising land prices, it would purchase only 29,000 acres, short of the amount needed to protect the park from those who would develop it.

The BLM said it would continue to process four exchange proposals involving 26,248 acres in Elko County in Central Nevada formerly classified for exchange. A fifth in Lander County is being reviewed at the request of county commissioners, who wanted the land for county use.

Some 28,090 acres in 25 parcels marked for exchange have been declassified and an additional 73 exchange proposals involving 770,000 acres will not be considered further for exchange, the BLM said.

A bureau spokesman said the BLM will proceed with the four exchanges because no one has specifically opposed them.

Like 'Van Winkle awakening' No compliment to 'swim like a duck'

NEW YORK (AP) — When they leave their old world for a new, it is a shock, like Rip Van Winkle awakening.

There are so many adjustments to make that people on the outside take for granted — dress, money, dating, even makeup.

They are the ex-nuns. An estimated 8,000 left the religious life alone last year to rejoin the secular young of their generation.

One of them is Barbara Kane. Before she had been simply Sister Matthew Maureen.

Her first job was the routine of applying for a job.

"I thought what am I getting myself into," said Barbara, 27, who found interviews were just the beginning of a series of rude awakenings she would have before settling into a Manhattan advertising job and a Queens apartment.

"I also wrote my friends and told them they should have practiced a few four-letter words on me."

Dating proved no problem. Barbara, a plain but friendly blonde, who was in orders eight years, quickly learned dance steps. But it took her about 11 hours to learn to apply eye-liner.

Then there were "dating" bars. She found that scene too desperate and awkward when asked the standard, "Who do you know?" and "Where have you been?"

Barbara didn't want to lie about her past, but she didn't want to advertise it either.

"They start asking what you did last summer and when you went to Europe last," she said. "You get worn out trying to tell the truth and not tell the truth."

Another ex-nun, Ginny Schult, 31, a former Dominican sister, was given $300 by her order and $100 by a relative.

Totally bewildered about how to write a resume or get a job, she went to Bearings for Re-establishment, Inc., an organization that aids about 1,500 former nuns and priests each year with job counseling and social rehabilitation.

"It's a strange sensation to go out on a job interview selling yourself," said Ginny, a nun 13 years.

Although she was a qualified teacher, her first job was as a $110-a-week secretary to pay her apartment deposit.

She has since found a $10,500 job as supervisor of teachers at a large Manhattan association.

for the handicapped but her Bronx studio apartment is still only partially furnished.

Ironically Ginny said, one of her main problems has been adjusting to poverty.

"My standard of living was a lot higher when I was in the convent but everything is relative. For example, I could never have had a bright yellow chair in the convent." Now she does in her apartment.

She also spent $100 at a discount store for her wardrobe. And now, like many other women, em, she has found her tastes have changed.

"Getting clothes wasn't as difficult as trying to decide what I liked," she said.

Barbara still attends Mass regularly. Ginny has stopped going. Barbara says she would consider birth control if she married. Ginny would not hesitate to practice it and furthermore states emphatically she would not rear her children in the same strict Catholic manner in which she was reared.

"I consider myself a good Catholic but I would not put my children through the same brainwashing process I went through," said Ginny.

Barbara harbors no animosity toward the order or the years she spent there. She thinks it is a fine vocation for some people, just not her.

"I don't think I was unhappy as a sister," she said. "I'm just freer as a person and I represent myself now."

Ginny cites internal politics and philosophical differences as her reasons for leaving.

By WENDEL A. MORDY
It is no compliment, it turns out, to be told you "swim like a duck."

At Duke University, Dr. H.D. Prange has been serving up live ducks under glass or rather plastic domes in a water treadmill. The breathing, oxygen or energy consumption, and speed of swimming can be followed this way.

It turns out that a duck's top speed is 1.6 miles per hour and they are only about one-fifth as efficient as a ship. That is, ducks use 20 times as much energy as theoretically necessary and ships only five times, to reach their maximum speed.

The top speed of a duck has very little to do with the energy it uses, it seems. The length and shape of the duck, as with ships, determines its maximum speed.

Matched mallard ducks by weight and size were used in the experiments. In the treadmill-like water channel the ducks had to swim hard to stay in a place where they had learned they would be fed. Thus they were kept in nearly the same spot while the plastic hoods were placed over their heads and measurements were made.

The ducks used four times as much oxygen at maximum speed as when resting. Flying birds are known to consume 8 to 12 times their oxygen use while resting. So there was a puzzle as to why the birds didn't try harder and swim faster.

To answer this, Prange studied the limitations on speed produced by the shape and length of a ship's hull. When a ship gradually increases speed, the waves in the wake of the ship gradually lengthen until at one moment the wave length (the distance between the wave crests) equals the length of the ship. This is called the "hull speed." If the ship exceeds the hull speed it suddenly requires much more energy and is inefficient and wasteful. Thus the length of the ship effectively determines its maximum speed.

The same reasoning, applied to the Mallard ducks worked out. Anyway, earlier experiments have shown that birds fly more efficiently than airplanes.

Book for pre-schoolers on sale

CARSON CITY - The Nevada Educational Communications Commission announced that, through the cooperation of public-spirited business firms, a work book for pre-school children who watch "Sesame Street" is on sale in most Northern Nevada communities.

The "Fun Book" reinforces the learning of skills presented in the "Sesame Street" programs. Its pages, with directions to parents in three languages, guide children to draw and color in the book. Through these "play" activities, pre-school children are given practice with the letters of the alphabet, concepts of spatial relationships, differences and similarities of size and shape and counting.

The "Fun Book" was developed by a committee of parents, educators, and learning psychologists in the San Francisco Bay area. After exhaustive field-testing and revision of the content, the book was published by the Bay Area educational television station, KQED (Channel 9, San Francisco).

The book went on sale, at cost, as a public service to parents of pre-school children beginning May 7. It will be available at all Safeway stores and Eagle-Thrifty Shopping World stores in Northern Nevada and California. The book will also be offered for sale by Gilbert Drugs and Toyland in Carson City.

Hugh Smith, executive director of the Nevada Educational Communications Commission, expressed the appreciation of the NECC for the cooperation of these businesses in enhancing the phenomenal success of the nationally-broadcast television series.

Select the best vegetable garden site

By RONALD H. GUSTAFSON
Washoe County Extension Horticulturist

A back-yard vegetable garden can supply an important proportion of the fresh vegetables a family needs during the growing months. A well-handled home vegetable garden in a suitable place should produce more than enough to offset most of the cost, such as seed, fertilizer, water, and garden tools. Health values of the produce and outdoor exercise are also of interest. Furthermore, vegetables from ones own garden can be harvested at the right time and used promptly when they have the highest quality and food value.

Where a farm gardener usually has an opportunity to select the best land within a reasonable distance from his house; most backyard gardeners must make whatever they have on their lots do. Some backyard sites are not well adapted to a vegetable garden. Steep sloped, bad drainage, too many trees, too much rock, or too little top soil, and shade from buildings are some of the drawbacks town gardeners put up with.

Selection of the best site possible is a must for successful gardening. First of all a plot of land suitable for a backyard garden must be in the open where it can get at least six hours of sunlight a day. Vegetables cannot be grown successfully where there are numerous shade trees or between buildings where the sun does not reach. If the sun reaches the garden spot no more than six hours a day, vegetables like tomatoes, egg plant, peppers and beans probably will not do very well. The leafy vegetables like lettuce, spinach, and swiss chard will tolerate some shade better than the fruit or seed bearing vegetables. Deep rich sandy loam makes the best all-purpose garden soil, however, it is possible to use a wide range of soils from sandy soils through silt loams and clays. Silt loams and clays are heavy, sticky, and difficult to handle.

Unless the soil is of such character that it can be spaded up into a loose crumbly condition, it will be difficult to work. To determine if the soil is dry enough to work, squeeze a handful tightly into a ball and then break it apart with your fingers. If the mass crumbles, it is safe to work, but if the soil clings together and cannot be readily broken up, it is too wet. Sandy soils dry out more quickly than silt and clay soils.

Last Wednesday on "Best in Life" series we demonstrated a variety of yeast sweet rolls. The muffins are a special recipe creation of Eileene Johnson and we have named them after her. The following is the recipe she whipped up on TV.

2 T. soy flour
1 1/4 c. wh. wh. pastry flour

1/4 t. salt
3/4 c. hard unbleached flour
1/2 c. honey
1/4 c. oil
2 T. sesame meal
1 t. lecithin
1 t. lemon juice
1 t. grated lemon peel (optional)

Dissolve yeast in water, add honey, oil, lecithin, lemon juice & peel. Add all other ingredients and beat to soft batter. Let rise double, in warm place, beat down and put in muffin pans that have been well greased with margarine and dusted lightly with flour. Let rise double. Mix brown sugar & coriander seed powder or cinnamon and sprinkle over each roll. Yield 8-10. Bake 25 minutes at 350.

Variations - 1. Instead of lemon peel use orange peel in muffin mix. After buttering & flouring tins, put small bit of butter in bottom, 1 t. raw sugar and 1/2 t. orange juice, then fill 1/2 full with batter. 2. Pecans or walnut kernels or coconut in bottom of tins with sugar & margarine. 3. Put 1/2 c. raisins in recipe.

If you think it too time consuming to make these breadstuffs, you can imagine mixing, rolling, filling and cutting one dozen extra large pin wheel rolls in 12 minutes? In the pan and ready to bake. Well, we did it on "Best in Life," last Wednesday. On TV there's just so much time to stir up things for you, and I had 12 minutes! It's fun though. Watch us at 3 p.m. next Wednesday on local Channel 10.

PIN WHEEL ROLLS

2 c. warm water
1 T. yeast
2 t. salt
1/4 c. sesame seed meal
1 c. hard unbleached white flour
1 c. wh. wh. pastry flour
2 t. liquid lecithin
1/4 c. oil
1/2 c. honey
3/4 c. wh. wh. breadflour
1 t. lemon juice

Put 1/2 c. of the water (80 degrees) and 1 T. honey of the honey in pint container to work. Place remaining water in warmed bowl with oil, lecithin & honey. Add 1/2 c. flour & rest of ingredients. Beat and add yeast mixture. Add more flour saving back 1 cup. When well mixed, mound dough on bread board or formica surface, which has been floured with remaining flour (1/2 in. deep). Knead well keeping plenty of flour under and over dough. A tip-don't get hands on sticky dough. Handle with plenty of flour. It will become smooth as you knead.

Add more flour if you need it, but don't make dough too stiff. When smooth & easy to handle, roll 1/2 of dough at a time to rectangle about 1/2 inch thick. Spread with brown sugar or honey, dot with margarine or spread sesame Tahini on dough, use chopped walnuts or whizzed coconut. Use raisins or dates if you wish. Roll up rectangle to long round roll. Cut through about every 2 inches, about 10 rolls. Place each roll in 8 or 9 inch round or square baking dish, which has the following syrup in it.

3/4 c. yellow D. sugar or honey
3 T. water
1 t. vanilla or maple flavor
1 T. cold pressed oil or margarine

Cook to thick syrup. Bake 35 min. 350.

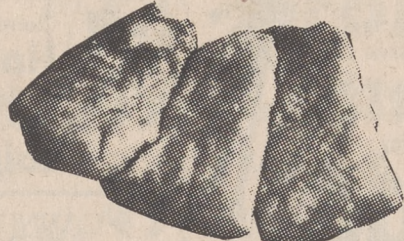

About ingredients - Liquid lecithin is excellent food. The variety of flours make better texture as well as better protein value. Be sure to use warm bowls for mixing and a pan of warm water is good to set your bowl in for raising dough. If you can keep dough at about 80 degrees it will raise quicker.

Tips on how to buy range

Thousands of years ago, a cavewoman had no choice when it came to cooking dinner. Her "range" was a campfire. But times have changed. Pardon the pun... there's quite a wide range of ranges to choose from today.

This means that when selecting a range, there will be many important buying decisions to make... and you'll be surprised at how many of them you can make before shopping.

Your decision to buy a new range is only the first. Now you'll need to decide on fuel, size, amount and type of features, whether you want automatic cleaning or not, free standing or built-in, color or white, one or two ovens. These decisions will be based on your cooking habits and present and future needs (growing families require larger meals and more cooking).

By knowing what is available before you shop, your's will be a wise purchase.

CRESCENT-V SHOPPING CENTER... Hwy. 50 & Park Ave. South Lake Tahoe

RALEY'S - Cornerstone of the Crescent V Shopping Center is Raley's Drug and Super Market. Managers Marty Hock and Jude Banks, respectively, left and right, point out that the store will be giving away free orchids to the ladies on Thursday and Friday of the three-day celebration. Also, free bags of groceries will be given away all three days with drawings held every hour. Shoppers will be asked to guess the exact weight of a live turkey, with the closest guess allowing the winner to take home a bird, possibly as a pet or maybe for Sunday dinner. Free pony rides, hopefully, will be in store for the younger visitor to Raley's during the celebration. Banks notes that the chain hopes to have the rides available. Owned by Thomas P. Raley, the South Lake Tahoe store opened its doors in the Crescent V Center seven years ago. Raley started his chain with one store in Placerville about 30 years ago.

Lowe-Trumbull Realty gives housing help

Everyone's housing needs, be they vacation rentals, permanent homes, income property or large acreage are handled by Lowe-Trumbull Realty in the Crescent V Center.

Owner Arthur Trumbull, who has been in business locally for 13 years, says the office has been in Crescent V Center for the past seven years.

Elaine's: Styling

Complete hair styling, tinting, waving and wig service is available at Elaine's Stateline Beauty Salon in the Crescent V Center.

MANTRAPS - One of the newest ideas on the local scene and probably anywhere else, is the semi - permanent eyelashes made by Mantraps. Gloria Goodwin, left, manager of the local salon of Mantraps, says the eyelashes can be worn day and night because they're attached to the natural lash. Here her customer is Connie Tappen, South Lake Tahoe. All that is needed after the initial application, which takes just an hour, is a touch-up every three weeks. "Using a non-allergenic dark adhesive, varying lash lengths of slightly curled European hair are attached to a woman's very own eyelashes," the local manager points out.

SEMI-PERMANENT EYELASHES

Using a non-allergenic dark adhesive, we attach varying lash lengths of slightly curled European hair to a woman's very own eyelashes.

And the lashes stay on day in and day out, through shower and sleep, wind and rain, sleet and snow and sun and hail.

No more struggling through the daily application of typical false eyelashes.

Also avoided is The Traumatic Experience undergone at one time or another by every wearer of the typical set of false eyelashes whereby one or both suddenly become halfway dislodged from the eyelid contributing a half crooked look that sends observers screaming into the sunset.

With the purchase of Mantraps Lashes there are three free service touchups included.

Call now for an appointment.

544-2040

We also carry the finest in Kanekalon permanently curled wigs.

RANDY'S SHOE REPAIR - Quick, efficient repair to worn heels and soles is the forte of Randy's Shoe Repair. The shop also features a wide variety of hand-made leather garments - for example, a leather bikini as well as genuine moccasins. Owner-manager Danny Baldwin notes that the shop has been located at the Crescent V Center annex for the last year, but has been in business at South Lake Tahoe since 1963.

FRIENDSHIP INN - More than 350 rooms in luxury suites are available to weary travelers at the Friendship Inn. Affiliated with more than 600 motels throughout the nation, Friendship Inn can make all the motel reservations necessary for any travelers' needs. Manager Charles Cavalier says he "congratulates Crescent V Center on its seventh anniversary."

JOSEPH MAGNIN - For the particularly fashion-conscious men and women of South Lake Tahoe, there's a Joseph Magnin's in the Crescent V Center. Located at the center since its opening day seven years ago, the specialty clothing store for men and women caters to the sophisticated. It is one of the more than 30 "J.M." stores throughout California.

Stax 'n Snax

Another fine eating establishment in the Crescent V Center is Stax 'n Snax, owned and operated by Fred Martinez. The restaurant features a complete line of short order items for breakfast and lunch.

One of the sweeter shops located in the Crescent V Annex is Martha Washington's Ice Cream Parlor. Owned and operated by Marie Thoeni, Martha Washington's features a large variety of ice cream flavors and the shop is always trying some new and delicious ideas for sweet treats.

In addition to ice cream cones and novelties, the shop has a selection of top quality chocolate candies and offers sandwiches and luncheon menus.

LAWRENCE'S - One of the first stores in Crescent V and a long-time favorite of South Shore shoppers is Lawrence's Department Store. Manager Jim Griffith reports many outstanding values will be featured in the three-day celebration along with several prizes planned to be given away by the store. Wigs Elite, located in the store, will give away a woman's high-fashion wig during the three-day sale. Also, Lawrence's will be giving away gift certificates. Drawings will be held three times daily. The local store features clothing for men, women and children, with a complete housewares department.

FREDRIC'S - Fredric of Tahoe caters to the artistic needs of the local community with its gallery and display area located in the Crescent V annex. Fred and Maxine DeLosh have a large display of original oil paintings and art objects, available for purchase. In fact, they have so many items, it's impossible to display them all. The couple, which opened the shop on April 21, hope to be able to display works by Lake Tahoe artists in the near future. The gallery is open from 11:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. daily except Monday. Mrs. DeLosh is a native of Texas; DeLosh is from Milwaukee, Wis. They lived most of their married lives in Minnesota, spent one year in Lima, Peru, and two years in Miami.

TAHOE NATIONAL BANK - Going into their seventh year at the Crescent V shopping center is Tahoe National Bank, the first independent bank at the lake with a second-branch at the "Y." Tahoe National has been conducting banking business on the South Shore since December, 1963. It offers complete banking service and a new free checking plan for all depositors. Directing the business of Tahoe National Bank since January of this year has been its new president Donald K. Bickle, left, Assistant Bickle at the financial institution are E. T. O'Gieblyn, right, vice president-cashier, who has been at the bank since May, 1964, and Al Parodi, assistant vice president who came to Tahoe last month. Here the men display some of the institutions decor.

PERRY BOYS - Featuring a leisurely lunch or dinner repast for Crescent V shoppers is Perry Boys' Smorgy, located adjacent to Raley's. Several special entrees are featured at each meal, where "you can eat as much as you want," says manager Paul Christianson.

Old West spirit marks anniversary

The spirit of the Old West will be relieved Thursday, Friday and Saturday as the stores, shops and boutiques of Crescent V Shopping center and annex get together to celebrate the center's seventh anniversary in South Lake Tahoe.

All employees will be dressed in western garb for the three-day celebration which will feature bargains and numerous prizes.

Most of the retail establishments in the center have been at Crescent V since it opened seven years ago this spring providing the city with one-stop shopping for all their needs the year around.

Originally, the multi-acre site with parking for hundreds of cars included the areas occupied by Raley's, Lawrence's, and the smaller specialty shops, with Perry Boys, Tahoe National Bank and the annex added a few years later.

Owned by Clint Roberts, of San Mateo, the center includes more than 25 stores featuring service and quality merchandise for both permanent residents and vacationers.

Numerous prizes will be given away to lucky patrons during the three-day sale bonanza and celebration. Included among the prizes will be a wig, several gift certificates, a live turkey, bags of groceries and free orchids for lady shoppers.

Among the stores participating in the celebration are Raley's Market and Drug Store, Lawrence's Department Store,

Joseph Magnin's, Stax 'n Snax, Lowe - Trumbull Real Estate, Bobby Page's Cleaners, Elaine's Stateline Beauty Salon, Cream Puff Bakery, Perry Boys Smorgy, Tahoe National Bank, Mantraps, Martha Washington Ice Cream & Chocolates, Fredric of Tahoe, Randy's Shoe Repair and Friendship Inn. The stores ask that shoppers take time out from the home chores to get acquainted with them during this once-a-year sales at the Crescent V Shopping center on Highway 50 in the Stateline area.

BOOTS AND BUDDY - Boots Randolph, best known for his recording of his own composition "Yakety Sax," opens May 19 at Harold's 7th Floor Fun Room in Reno.

Harolds books Randolph

Boots Randolph calls himself "the world's greatest hillbilly saxophone player."

He's only half right. Sure, he hails from "hillbilly" country, all right. (Paducah, Kentucky, to be exact). But the sounds that come out of that horn!

Hillbilly? Not on your octave key.

Oh, Boots can honk and stomp with the best of them. But, he grooves behind a back beat, too, and he can wail a pretty ballad, or blow a wild riff ala "Pres" or "Bird."

And he'll be breaking out his entire bag in Harold's 7th Floor Fun Room in Reno, May 19. Randolph is best known nationally for his Monument record-his personal appearances with the touring Masters Festival of Music.

In Nashville, where he makes his home, he's in constant demand for his back-up work on "Nashville Sound" recordings. He started by playing the Uke in the Randolph family combo, switched to trombone, which he taught himself, and then in High School switched to sax. "It was easier to play while marching," he says.

After WWII, in which he serenaded servicemen arriving and departing Camp Kilmer, N. J., he was signed by Chet Atkins to a recording contract. The rest, as they say, is history. Boots' compositions include "Yakety Sax," "Cacklin' Sax,"

"Little Big Horn," "Chicken in the Rough," and "Simple Simon". Backing Boots Randolph on the Harold's Club date will be his combo and Brass Quittet. Jerry Vale follows in the Fun Room June 9.

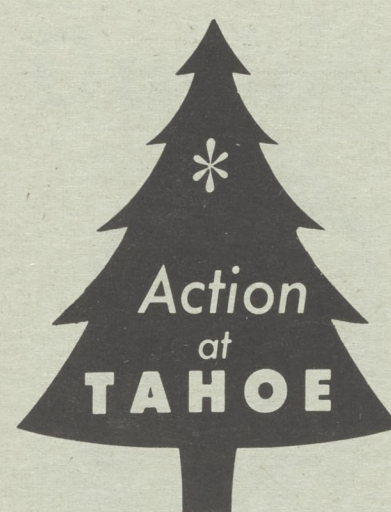

Loves horses

Sue Ane Langdon, who co-stars with Herman's Hermits in "Hold On!" Friday, May 22 on "The CBS Friday Night Movies" on the CBS Television Network, said she is "crazy over horses" because she was raised on the famous King Ranch in Texas. Miss Langdon will be featured on "Arnie," new comedy series starring next fall on the CBS Television Network.

The test, examining how much Americans know about the dangers and extent of the pollution of our world, will provide a representative set of scores, drawn from a national probability sample, for viewers to compare with their own test scores. CBS News Correspondents Harry Reasoner and Mike Wallace are the reporters.

HEAR HIM AT SAHARA - Johnny Ray, one of the all-time greats in the entertainment industry, is starring nightly in the Juniper Lounge at Hotel Sahara-Tahoe. From his recent million sellers to excellent arrangements of top-ten pop tunes, Ray is a genius at bringing a fresh flair to his music. Also appearing in the Juniper Lounge are the swinging Treniers.

Golf tourney telecast set

Final round action in the 25th annual Colonial Invitational golf tournament will be televised live and in color exclusively on the ABC Television Network Sunday, May 17, 1-3 p.m., PDT, from the Colonial Country Club in Fort Worth, Tex.

The $125,000 tournament offers a first prize of $25,000, attracting virtually every top golfer on the PGA tour. Early entrants include the three top all-time money winners, Arnold Palmer, Jack Nicklaus and 1970 Masters champion Billy Casper; Frank Bear, the No. 1 money earner in 1969; and winners of the major tournaments held during the past year. They include Ray Floyd, the PGA title-holder, and Orville Moody, the U.S. Open champion.

ABC sportscasters Chris Schenkel, Bud Palmer and Keith Jackson will describe the play. All-time golf great Byron Nelson and Dave Marr, the newest member of ABC's golf broadcasting team, will provide the expert commentary.

OPENING SEASON - Popular comedians Dan Rowan and Dick Martin will open the Sahara's summer season of entertainment when they take over the High Sierra Theatre May 18. They will bring along many of their well-known comedy routines and much of the humorous material that put them at the top of the television and nightclub circuit.

Comedians kickoff season

The hilarious comedy team of Rowan & Martin opens the Sahara-Tahoe show season in splendid style on Monday, May 18, when the High Sierra Theatre opens for its sixth spectacular year.

Dan Rowan and Dick Martin, a long way in five years and with the success of the "Laugh In" television comedy show, so has come a whole new era for the likeable comedy team.

As a straight man, Dan Rowan is unsurpassed. Excellent dialogue, perfect timing and an uncanny sense of delivery makes him the best in the business.

And in Dick Martin, he is the zany, unpredictable character that is a champion with ad-libs and a genius at pure comedy. Joining in on the Sahara-Tahoe fun will be another pair from the new addition Johnny Brown, who joins the show following a year on the Leslie Uggams show.

Both are versatile entertainers who should help make the show one of the year's best. Rowan and Martin will be appearing through May 31, Johnny Mathis opens June 1, for one week.

After five, Tahoe's finest golf club turns into Tahoe's liveliest supper club.

Sante performs at Lodge

The dynamic Joe Sante Quartet performs nightly at North Lake Tahoe's Nevada Lodge. Ranging from upbeat, precision jazz arrangements to novelty tunes and sharp comedy, the Quarter has established itself as one of the top attractions ever to appear in the Topaz Room of Nevada Lodge.

Crowd pleasing and fast paced, the Joe Sante Quartet features Irene Keller, throaty voiced song stylist and wife of Joe Sante. Musicians in the quartet each play a number of instruments. Sante himself plays all reed instruments, from clarinet to bass saxophone and amazes audiences by playing two saxophones at the same time. On-stage antics by the group are wild. Their music ranges from Glenn Miller standards - "In The Mood" and "String of Pearls" through the 1970 sound and including husky voiced vocal glamor of Irene Keller.

This is the final week at the North Lake Tahoe resort hotel for the Joe Sante Quartet. They will appear nightly through May

17. Moving into the spotlight May 19 (Tuesday) will be exciting and enjoyable Linda and The Fifth Winds, starring Linda Cumbo whose vocal range is such that she has been compared to the late Judy Garland and whose relatively short show business career has included TV, movies and musical variety.

Joins staff

Paul Uhl has been signed by producers Jim Brooks and Allan Burns as director of photography for "The Mary Tyler Moore Show," scheduled to premiere in September on the CBS Television Network.

"The Mary Tyler Moore Show" begins filming in June at General Service Studios and will be seen Tuesdays in color.

On the cover

Warm spring weather in Lake Tahoe Basin has brought out the boaters, swimmers, sunbathers and even those who love to just play in the sand on the beach.

One young fellow was recently seen at a South Shore beach wallowing in the sand, squishing it through his toes and having a great time dumping it in and out of his bucket.

Nugget Classic dates announced

John Ascuaga's Nugget's eighth annual golf classic has been scheduled this year for June 22 through 25.

The 54 hole, four man best ball tourney is rated as the finest amateur tournament in the West. This year, there will also be an overall low gross winner for the tournament in addition to the daily best ball and tournament low net winners in each of six flights.

A hole in one will be worth the golfer's weight in silver dollars, computed at 17 cartwheels to the pound.

The Nugget Classic is played over three championship courses, Hidden Valley and Washoe County in Reno and Incline Village Golf Course at Lake Tahoe.

The four day event brings to Reno Sparks some of the best amateur golfers in the West and combines serious golfing with parties and shows. During the tourney there will be parties hosted by Ascuaga, Hollywood celebrities and well known sports stars as well as special classic shows for the participants, including shows by Eddy Arnold, Fred and Mickie Finn, Archie Campbell, Jimmie Rodgers and Sandler & Young.

Registration for this best known of amateur tournaments will take place on June 22, and play will be held on June 23, 24 and 25. Prizes will be distributed on the night of June 25. Invitations have already been sent out and returns are expected to start coming in soon.

Miss USA judges selected

A panel of nine judges has been named for the 19th annual "Miss USA Beauty Pageant," to be broadcast as a 90-minute color special Saturday, May 16 on the CBS Television Network, from the Miami Beach (Fla) Auditorium.

Selected to choose Miss USA 1970 from among 51 of the most beautiful girls in the nation were Sue Downey Olsen, Miss USA 1965; syndicated columnist Bert Bacharach and Hy Gardner; Ben Novak, president of the Fontainebleau Hotel in Miami Beach; George Lindsey of the "Mayberry R.F.D." series on the CBS Television Network; pro football's Len Dawson, quarterback of the world champion Kansas City Chiefs; Wilhelmina, former well-known model and owner of the Wilhelmina Model Agency in New York; Teresa Graves of television's "Laugh-In" and Richard J. Knight, a vice president of Avis Rent-A-Car System, Inc.

Lindsey, Novack and Gardner served as Pageant judges last year.

Connie stars in new show

The Connie Stevens show with Mr. Electric, the Sam Donahue orchestra and the Nugget's performing elephants, Bertha and Tina, opened May 7 for two weeks at John Ascuaga's Nugget in Sparks, Nevada. Connie arrived in the Reno-Sparks area with a brand new show that she just successfully tried out in Las Vegas.

Connie would be a hit by simply standing on a stage and being pretty. But to say she is pretty, beautiful and lovely is understating Mother Nature. Connie Stevens is also very talented and able to perform outstanding shows.

Connie has worked hard to gain her star status and continues a nerve shattering pace to remain on top. Her background follows a pattern of doing small show business stints, with each one leading to something more difficult and demanding. She thought she reached the top with her role in "Hawaiian Eye," but that was followed by hit records, movies and now, she's one of the leaders on the nightclub circuit.

From here, only Connie Stevens knows what is next on her ladder leading ever upward, but it's safe to say she will never be satisfied, ed.

The Connie Stevens show with Mr. Electric, Sam Donahue and the orchestra and Bertha and Tina will play through May 20, CIRCUS ROOM STAR - Connie Stevens is spending her evenings oozing charm and singing songs on stage in the Circus Room of John Ascuaga's Nugget. She presents two shows nightly through May 20.

Wayne and Shuster 'take look at love'

Wayne and Shuster, the popular Canadian comedy team, "Take a Look at Love" in a half-hour special airing on the ABC Television Network Wednesday, May 20 (8:30 - 9 p.m. PDT), it was announced today by Martin Starger, Vice President in charge of Programming for the network.

In the hands of Johnny Wayne and Frank Shuster, love becomes a very amusing subject. Acting as anchormen, they trace the course of that elusive emotion through the ages, showing how man has chased his woman and dealt with the problems of love as far back as the caveman.

The sketches (featuring Wayne and Shuster) include a look at how Adam handled Eve, how King Priam pursued Helen of Troy, William Shakespeare's attempt to sell his greatest love sonnet.

Wayne and Shuster first gained prominence while serving with the entertainment wing of the Royal Canadian Air Force during World War II. Since then they have made regular appearances on radio and television in Canada and abroad. They have appeared on "The Ed Sullivan Show" no fewer than 66 times, and were the first Canadians to have an American radio network series. Their current weekly CBS television series, "Wayne and Shuster's Wonderful World," is one of Canada's most popular programs.

"Take a Look at Love" was produced by Barry Cranston and directed by John Wray. The executive producer is Len Starmer.

WELCOME BACK - Fast-moving funnymen Gaylord and Holiday return to Harrah's Stateline Cabaret for a three-week stint beginning May 14. The popular pair has been a regular sight on the Tahoe scene for a number of years and is now making it big in guest roles on top television variety shows.

BLOWIN' IN - One of the newest and fastest rising musical and comedy groups playing the Nevada circuit today, the Summer Winds, returns to Harrah's Stateline Cabaret for a one-week slate beginning May 14. They present original stylings on some of the biggest hits of today and vary their show with music of other eras.

Davidson encores at Harrah's Tahoe

Singer John Davidson followed up his successful two-weekend stand last February at Harrah's Tahoe with a nine-day return engagement in the South Shore Room beginning May 19.

Comedian Bill Cosby and singer-musician Ray Charles conclude their three-week stay Monday, May 18. The two show business superstars have played to responsive, capacity houses throughout.

Norm Crosby, one of the best of the current crop of comedians, will appear with Davidson each night, along with the Girls from Brazil. Everett Gordon will direct the Brian Farnon Orchestra.

During his Lake Tahoe debut three months ago, the youthful but sophisticated Davidson easily won over audiences via his rich, baritone voice, deft sense of humor and self-assured stage presence.

Those who had never seen Davidson perform before were caught off guard. He gave them much more than anticipated.

Davidson proves youth is not necessarily a synonym for inexperience. Davidson's show business travels already read like an odyssey.

In October, 1967, he was host and star of his first TV special, "John Davidson at Notre Dame" for ABC. That same fall his first starring film, "The Happiest Millionaire" was released.

His second film, co-starring Walter Brennan and Buddy Ebsen, "The One and Only Genuine Original Family Band," was the Easter attraction for 1968 at Radio City Music Hall in New York.

Two years ago his varied talents were on display when he hosted "Class of '68" for "The Kraft Music Hall." His other TV credits include "The Carol Burnett Show," "The Bell Telephone Hour," "The Hollywood Palace" and "The Bob Hope Special."

On the nitery trail, Davidson has logged appearances at the Eden Roc in Miami, the Shoreham in Washington, the Maramor in Columbus, the Latin Casino in New Jersey and Caesar's Palace.

His top selling albums for Columbia Records include "A Kind of Hush" and "The Time of My Life."

Norm Crosby has achieved much of his success through television. His monologues are a riotous melange of malapropisms and improvisation.

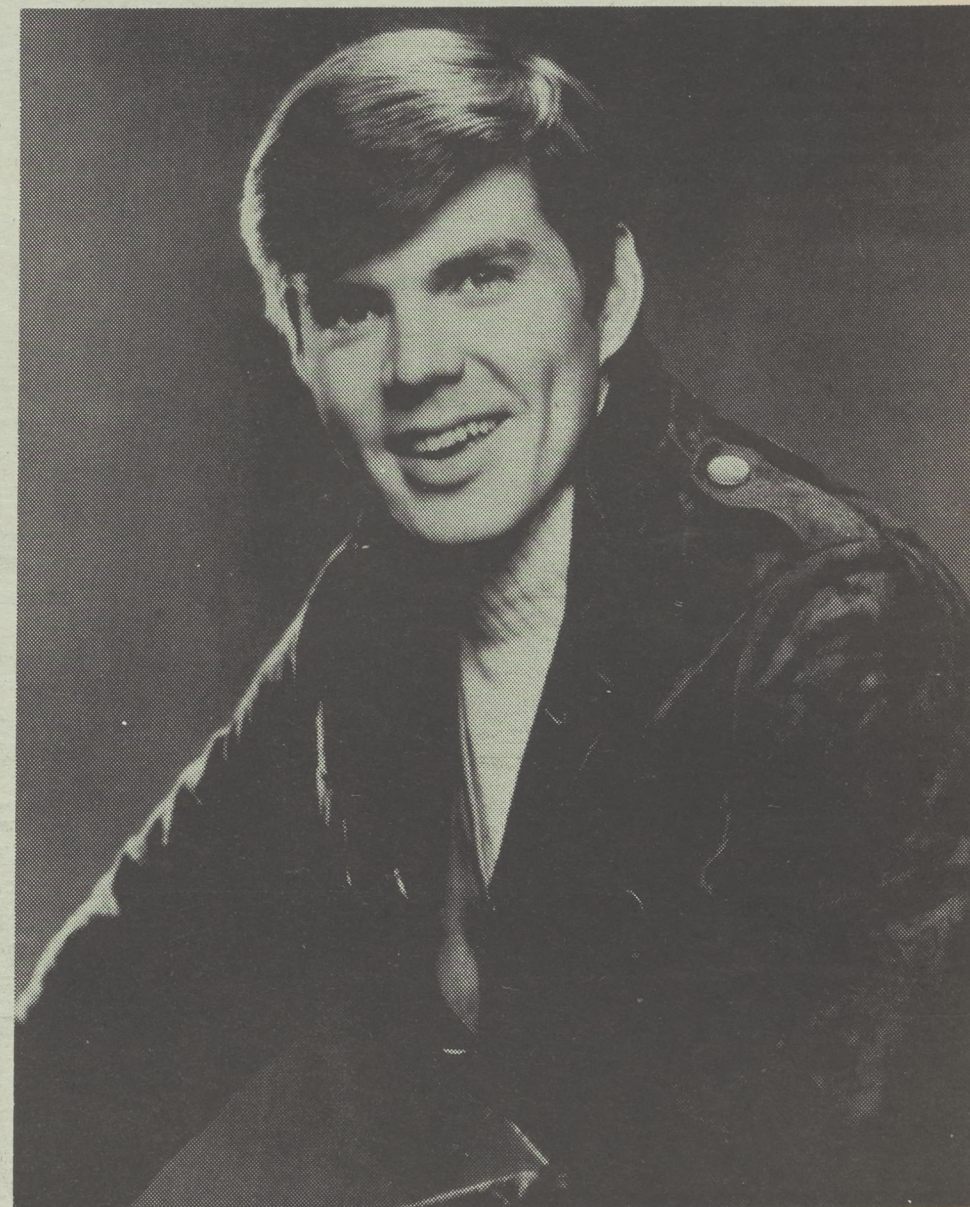

During the past year alone Crosby has made over 200 TV appearances - as co-host with Mike Douglas, filling in for Joey Bishop, plus guest spots with Ed Sullivan, Dean Martin, Glen Campbell, Merv Griffin, Johnny Carson and David Frost.

In March he appeared with Davidson during two four-night engagements in Houston and Phoenix. He will tour with Tom Jones June 10 through August 2, doing most one-night stands.

The Girls from Brazil are labeled as "the female Beatles" in their home country, where they have put together a string of hit records.

In 1967 they were called to perform on the "Andy William Show" in Hollywood, their first appearance in the United States. Warner Brothers Records immediately signed them for their first album.

Dionne Warwick, talented songstress who has been called the "voice of Burt Bacharach," will debut at Harrah's Tahoe May 28. She will appear in the South Shore Room for 12 days.

RETURN ENGAGEMENT - Youthful singer John Davidson returns to Harrah's Tahoe South Shore Room for a nine-day engagement beginning May 19. The motion picture, television and nightclub talent will be making his second appearance at Harrah's Tahoe in three months.

DYNAMIC ARTISTS - Lovely songstress Dionne Warwick, "the voice of Burt Bacharach," scores her debut in Harrah's Tahoe South Shore Room May 28. She will entertain through June 8. Hitsongs include "Do You Know The Way to San Jose?" "Alfie," "Promises, Promises" and many others. Norm Crosby, one of the best of the current crop of comedians, brings his unusual style of humor to Harrah's South Shore Room May 19-27, appearing with the John Davidson Show. Last year Crosby made better than 200 television appearances.

At Harrah's Edgewood Room buffet, our menu is too good for words.

We put our menu on the line instead. No pretty phrases. No parchment paper. Just tempting buffet selections, right before your eyes. Served in the quiet atmosphere of a fine restaurant.

There's no wine list, either. Because wine is included with your buffet. Compliments of Harrah's.

This weekend, enjoy a candlelit dinner with the menu under glass. And bring the children along. They'll be wide-eyed at all those mouth-watering choices. It's Friday and Saturday, 5 to 11 p.m. Sundays, 4:30 to 10:30 p.m. Upstairs in the Edgewood Room at Harrah's Tahoe.

Harpist's Bazaar opens at Harvey's

When Lloyd Lindroth, backed by the Harpist's Bazaar, plays his harp, he enhances like Liberace, he's as charming as Peter Lawford, and is known as "America's Swingiest Harpist." He is appearing at Harvey's Resort Hotel Theatre Lounge through May 27.

Also on stage is Evalani and the South Sea Islanders through June 8, Venus and the Baja Country Jesters through May 21, and Martha Mason with the Music People through May 17. Opening May 18 is Cathy Ryan and the Gents.

Lloyd Lindroth and the Harpist's Bazaar are a novelty group playing blues and Dixieland as well as country-western music. Lindroth has the only electronic harp in existence - costing $15,000. The harp sound is augmented many times over and is very exciting to hear - a truly new sound in music - from the World's oldest instrument. The sound is big, adding dramatic musical depth.

Lloyd and his group are clean-cut, wholesome young men of the highest calibre in talent and musicianship. They possess the ability to mold their instrumenting to the intricate, difficult and challenging harp arrangements like a "tight-fitting glove."

The most colorful, lovely and authentic Polynesian troupe in show business is Evalani and the South Sea Islanders. Evalani devotes much time and expense in keeping her act in the "far excellence" category. Costume is a prerequisite as it must always be fresh, colorful and authentic. She displays determination in achieving set goals for her group which, she feels, has been the measure of success.

The strolling musicians of Mexico, Venus and the Baja Country Jesters, combine their talents into one package. The distinctive costuming remind the viewer of the "Baja Marimba Band," a group that pleases the most discriminating audiences.

Martha Mason and the Music People continue to please their audiences with their versatile music and vocals and the flair for comedy which is outstanding.

Cathy Ryan and the Gents return to Harvey's Resort Hotel Theatre Lounge and blend their talents in a show that is well received. Pretty and blonde Cathy boasts a distinctive style that gives special meaning to her vocals. She swings into a wide selection of songs that guarantee to capture the listener.

"AAU International Track and Field Champions" will be broadcast for a full hour each Sunday afternoon through Sept. 6, except on June 18 and July 26 when it will be expanded to 90 minutes of coverage of the AAU National Championships and the U.S.A.-U.S.S.R. Meet.

Jack Whitaker will be the host.

'Now' examines costs of Viet war

Each Thursday morning, the Pentagon's weekly casualty figure tell one story of America's Vietnam war losses, estimated now at close to 50,000.

The other story - the loss to wives and children, family, friends and community when a bright, talented and concerned young man does not return from combat - is the subject of "Missing in Randolph," airing on ABC News' "Now" Monday, May 18.

Randolph, a community of some 2,000 persons in New York's upstate Cattaraugus County, like many other small farming towns is facing a crisis of survival. The future of small-town America depends upon its young people, few of whom seem to have any feeling for the land which has served their families for generations. The young are leaving their homes, the farms, for other occupations and other lives - and little can be done to stop them.

What, then, is the impact on the Randolphs of America when young men who plan to stay in their birthplace, to help their communities grow and prosper, leave for war, perhaps not to return?

Bill Hillard of Randolph, N.Y., was only 21 years old when he died in combat in Vietnam on year ago. His death was not exceptional - more than 85 percent of all American fatalities in that war are young men between the ages 18 and 21.

But, after examining his brief record and interviewing scores who knew him, producer-director writer Hope Ryden concludes that Bill Hillard was exceptional because he left so many visible traces of his potential. Bill was an active force in the agricultural community in which he grew up.

5th Dimension to present first special

"The 5th Dimension Special: An Odyssey in the Cosmic Universe of Peter Max," starring the highly popular 5th Dimension singing group in a fanciful visual concept by contemporary artist - designer Peter Max, will be presented as a full-hour musical-variety special in color Thursday, May 21 on the CBS Television Network.

Appearing as guests on "The 5th Dimension Special" will be Glen Campbell, star of his own music-variety series on the CBS Television Network, comedian Arte Johnson of "Laugh-In" and singer-dancer Joey Heatherton, with Flip Wilson as special guest star.

This will be the first television starring special of their own for the five members of the 5th Dimension - Marilyn McCoo, Billy Davis Jr., Florence LaRue, Lamonte McLemore and Ron Townson - whose vocal talents have often been displayed in guest performances on a number of television variety specials and series.

Their material on this show will be drawn from their past hits and new songs that they have recently recorded, all set against the colorful, imaginative background of the vividly mod world of 30-year-old graphics artist Peter Max. Max is the dynamic designer whose mad mod posters made him famous several years ago and whose boldly patterned motifs have since been applied to home furnishings, fashion accessories, clock faces, dinnerware, matches, belts, stationery and virtually every other kind of diverse marketable commodity, up to and including posters on buses in New York and eight other major cities.

DEACON AND THE LITTLE PEOPLE - Deacon Jones has been making good use of his off-duty hours during his engagement at Kings Castle. Last week he traveled to Kings Beach Elementary School to "tell it like it is" to students. The L. A. Rams star spoke about staying in school, drug abuse and problems of youth, and followed the talk with a short concert. Backing Deacon are Ray Frazier and The Continentals.

Castle star visits youth

Deacon Jones, appearing at Kings Castle through May 30 is spending his off-duty hours spreading a little soul among children at local schools.

Deacon traveled with Ray Frazier and The Continentals to Kings Beach Grade School last week to "tell it like it is" to children. They discussed the value of staying in school and touched on many of the problems facing today's youth. The talk was followed by a concert, the group did several of Jones' hits, including "Along Came Jones."

Deacon's original engagement was extended to an extra month by popular demand. The big L.A. Rams defensive end has proven to be an all star performer on stage as well as on the football field. He has become a big favorite with local cabaret fans as well as visitors.

It's a "soul injection" when the Deacon Jones Revue comes onstage, with Deacon wailing out a tender ballad, Strong musical and vocal support is given by Ray Frazier and The Continentals.

Showtime in the Casino Lounge is 8-2 during the week, 9-3 on Fridays and Saturdays. The room is dark on Mondays.

Entertainment set for lodge lounge

Early in May the Casino Lounge with its intimate, semi-circular, bar-level stage at the Cal-Neva Lodge, stood strangely quiet. Not for long though. Nine shows featuring top entertainers have been booked at the North Lake Tahoe resort hotel.

Starting the line of lounge entertainers will be Frankie Fanelli, the RCA-Victor recording artist, May 28-31. Fanelli, who lives in Reno with his wife and five children, has made numerous television appearances and has been a featured attraction at supper clubs across the nation.

The Al Bello Show comes next, June 11-29. Bello and his line of beautiful and talented dancers have become a tradition in the Reno-Tahoe area.

Jack Ross, a veteran comic as well as a polished musical vocalist, will bring five versatile musicians to back him up in the Casino Lounge from June 25 through August 5. Be prepared for a mile-a-minute action.

Tropical beauty enters the scene. The Asian Orchids will be co-featured June 30 to July 20.

On the other end of the entertainment spectrum is Dr. Dante "Mr. Hypnotist." Dante, famous for making the world's greatest stars out of audience volunteers, will be at the Cal-Neva Lodge from July 22 to August 12.

Hawaiian entertainer Poncie Ponce, the former jazz-talking cab driver on television's "Hawaiian Eye," will charm audiences in a Cal-Neva repeat engagement, August 6 to Sept. 2.

Rounding off the Casino Lounge schedule will be Roberta Darin, Sept. 3-16; The Diamonds, Sept. 17-30; Main Street Singers, Oct. 1-14.

Tony Austin and Company will continue to provide music for dancing and enjoyment in the Terrace Lounge throughout the summer.
